NEW BEDFORD
FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

This book can be kept Two Weeks. When returned to be handed to the Librarian. Books to be retaken must be returned to the Library.

FINES for retaining beyond the allowed period, one cent a day. For injury or loss the actual damage sustained.

Loud conversation and conduct inconsistent with the quiet and orderly use of the Library Rooms are prohibited.

EXTRACT FROM THE LAWS OF MASSACHUSETTS.—Whoever wilfully and maliciously or wantonly and without cause writes upon, injures, defaces, tears, or destroys a book, plate, picture, engraving, or statue belonging to a law, town, city, or other public library, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five, nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding six months.

Class T 091

Acc. 79322

Book F163

SYLVIA ANN HOWLAND FUND.

No. 1

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

Jenney S. Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Thousand Dollars on Barque Volga & outfits for proportionally, on each as valued in the margin, at and from —

Fairhaven August 18th 1855

09
F16

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel & outfits August 20. 1855 at noon.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 18th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12.000

OUTFITS $ 13.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 80
Policy..... 1

$ 81.
70.85

August. 18. 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

79322

John A. Wan, Secretary.

J. R. Whitney, President.

No. 2

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

B. Ewer Jr.

Sum insured, $ 1000

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Arctic (as noted in the margin), at and from Guam March 7. 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75 pr gal.
Whale Oil,
~~Whale Bone,~~

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 7. 1855.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 27th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two & one half per cent. if the risk ends within Six months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 25.—
Policy..... 1.— $ 26.—

July 27th 1858 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty fifth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Staves Secretary. President.

1904

Jan 27 - 45 -

270 -
27 27
297 -

720 - 297

1297

No. 3

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8.000

Smyth and Allen & for account of whom it may Concern in case of loss pay Smyth & Allen to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight Thousand Dollars on Barque Montgomery and outfits for whatsoever name or names she may be called in the Margin, at and from Newbedford Aug 21. 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel & outfits Aug 21. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Aug 21. 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10.000

OUTFITS $ 17.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, them executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 720
Policy.....

August 21. 1859 at noon

$ 121
297
1018-

Ins. Vessel & outfits Aug 21. 1855 to Aug 21. 1859 $1436 Prem. $720 Policy $1

6. mos. 85 dys =
30
180.

720 - 220 - 180
180

No. 1

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Benjamin Ellis

Sum insured, $ 2.750

to be insured, lost or not lost, Two Thousand Seven hundred & Fifty Dollars on Ship Rover and Outfits for particulars, as each as mined in the margin - at and from Nantucket August 22. 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel & outfits Aug 22. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 22 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 20.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 220—
Policy.....
$ 221.—
55.
275

August 22nd 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty seven day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Fawes Secretary. President.

No. 2

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,
$ 5,000

Jenney & Ship

to be insured, lost or not lost, Five Thousand Dollars on Ship Hudson & appurtenances as valued in the margin. at and from Sydney to Fairhaven —

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

~~wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured,~~ or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel &c. August 22d 1855.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ 5,000

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, ~~his~~ factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, ~~his~~ executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of ~~—~~ 3/8 ~~—~~ per cent. ~~if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until~~

Prem....$ 18,75
Policy. ..

$19.75

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second Monday day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 6

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Jenney & Mapp for account of whom it may concern to be well insured

for pay Jenney & Mapp

Sum insured, $ 23.000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty Three hundred Dollars on Barque Volga and outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin at and from Fairhaven August 18th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel & outfits August 18th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 18th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Outfits $ 13000

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Barque &c. or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Barque &c. or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 184
Policy.....

August 18th 1859 at noon

$ 185.
16 15
2 8 5

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Barque &c. aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Barque &c. whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Third day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 1

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 500

to Reuben Fish for Moses Rull Son of any payment to Reuben Fish to be insured, lost or not lost, Five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Pacific at value in the margin at sum from Bahama April 9th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings April 9th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before Sept. 21. 1858. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 10
Policy....
$ 10.

Sept. 21. 1858. at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings, whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty fourth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Hawes
Secretary.

President.

No. 52

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 4,000

Benjamin Clough

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Four Thousand Dollars on Barque Gen. Scott and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin, at and from Fairhaven Aug 30 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & outfits Aug 30. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 30. 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 15.000

Outfits $ 17,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 320
Policy..... 1

$ 321.

August 30. 1859 at noon

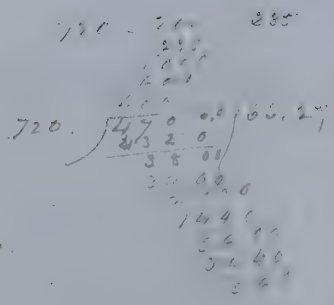
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty /

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 9.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2500

James. V. Coy.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty fifve hundred Dollars. on Catchings on board Barque Bruce. Unconditionally on each as valued in the margin. at and from "Bran River" Feb. 24th 1855,

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75
Whale Oil, 70
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings. Febuary 24th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 22d 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1
$ 201

June 22, 1858. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirty first day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Secretary. President.

No. 10

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 83.00

Jonathan Bourne Jr. for himself $3000 and to account of John D Millard $1200 - Tho. R Eeo $900 - A.S. Mo $600 - Same in Without $100 Each of Jon. Jonathan Bourne Jr.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eighty three hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Kingfisher as valued in the margin at and from Guam

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1,75
Whale Oil, 70
Whale Bone,

March 17th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 17th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 22d 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 4.15
Policy..... 1
$ 4.16

to return for time not used if the risk ends without loss warranting Two and a half per cent. until September 22d 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of meta ling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John R. Bowes Secretary. President.

Received Fairhaven May 1st 1876 from the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company Three thousand five hundred Dollars on account of loss on Catchings on board Ship "King Fisher" as insured in the within Policy.

$3500.

Wm. Borden Jr
by G. H. Delano

Received Fairhaven July 8th 1876 from the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company their note for four months for Four thousand six hundred and ninety nine Dollars and forty nine cents being balance due on account of loss on Catchings on board Ship King Fisher as insured in the within Policy.

$4699.49

Wm. Borden Jr

Memorandum.

To Loss due Dec. 20 1875.	5300
" Bal 2nd due on Sp. July 8. 1876.	221.09
" on " @ 4 mos. 3 days.	74.40	595.49

Cr

By Premium note.	416.
Cash May 1. 1876.	3500
July 8. Note 4 mos 3 days.	4699.49	8615.49

No. 11.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Ebenezer Allen 2d for National Bk Fairhaven in case of loss

Sum insured, $ 1200 — any to payable to Ebenezer Allen 2d

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twelve hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Anaconda as entered in the margin, at and from Gillespies Island July 4th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1,75
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings July 4th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before November 24th 1856. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until to Return for time not used if the risk ends within One year

Prem....$ 60.
Policy..... 1
$ 61

five & a half per cent. until November 24. 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 1st day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Stanes Secretary. President.

No. 12

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 5000

Jenney & Fish

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Five Thousand Dollars on Barque Fine vessel

Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin hereof from Fairhaven, September 3rd 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel and Outfits September 3rd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3rd 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 6,000

Outfits $ 15,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 400
Policy..... 1
$ 401

September 3rd 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Wm A. Tawes Secretary. President.

No. 13.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3,000

Joseph Inspb for L. J. & J. Inspb as per Policy payable to Joseph Inspb

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Three Thousand Dollars on Barque Zone & outfits for protection in each as valued in the margin. Comt from Fairhaven September 3d 1859

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & Outfits September 3d 1859 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3d 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16,000

Outfits $ 16,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 240
Policy.....

$ 240

September 3d 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Haines Secretary. President.

No. 4

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured.
$ 2500

Barque Dartmouth

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Five hundred Dollars on Barque Dartmouth and Outfits proportionally on each of the voyages at and from New Bedford September 10th 1885

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & Outfits September 10. 1885 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 10th 1889 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, &c factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, &c executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Four years, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200.
Policy.... 1

September 10th 1889 at noon.

$ 201.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Barque &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Barque &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

360.
200
3
663.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

720 - 200 - 663
200
132 610 1946
722 1068
52 68
2000
2880
1200
224
4800
4320

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the First day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Ramsdell Secretary. President.

No. 15

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 5,300

Edmund Allen. for account of whom it may concern

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Fifty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Arctic as valued in the margin. at and from Guam March 7th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1,75
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 7. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 27th 1855. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, their to return for time not used if the risk ends without loss or salvage

Prem....$ 275
Policy.....

$ 276.

less a half per cent. until July 27th 1855. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A Stowes Secretary.

President.

No. 10

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2,000

Rogers & Baxter

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Dollars on Barque America & Outfits.

proportionately on each as valued in the margin. Att and from Wallahpassets September 12th 1855-

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & outfits September 12th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 12th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10.000

OUTFITS $ 10.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within five and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160 —
Policy...
$ 161

September 12th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Barque &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

11 mos. 11 dys.

720. 160 - 341

20460

5456.0 | 75.7

5040

4160

5600

5040

560

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage mercly, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twelfth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 1

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 900

Fairhaven Church for account of Milton Lee Esq. loss, if any, payable to Fairhaven Church.

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Hundred Dollars on Catchings and Ship Amazon. as valued in the margin, whom she was on the first day of September 1855 if in safety.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil, 75
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings September 1st 1855 at noon.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 29th 1856. at noon.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year, and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time not used if the risk ends sooner on Catchings and a Light-

Prem....$ 45
Policy.....
$ 45

until September 29th 1856.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Graves Secretary. President.

No. 18

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

William P. E. Pope

Sum insured,

$ 7000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Seven Thousand dollars on Merchandize (on board Ship Olivia) At and from Boston to Honolulu S.I. via San Francis with liberty to tranship by any good vessel or vessels at and from San Francisco to Honolulu. but not liable for Gen. Average on shore at San Francisco

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

~~wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage,~~ ~~or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called.~~ Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Merchandize

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$ 7000

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Four per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ ~~and pro rata for a longer time, until~~ to return one per cent on the amount landed at San Francisco

Prem....$ 280

Policy.... 1

$ 281.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Merchandize aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Merchandize whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fourteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 19

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3000.

Roger L. Burton for himself $500. and for account of Abner Wood $2500 ins of any parcels to Roger L Burton.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Three thousand dollars on Bark America & outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from Massachusetts September 14th 1885 at noon.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & outfits. September 14th 1885 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 14th 1889 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 100000

Outfits $ 14.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Six years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 240.
Policy..... 1

$ 241.
113.33
2 2 7.33

September 14th 1889 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

50
5 30
5 10
340

240 - 340

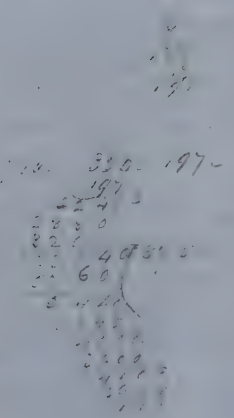
240
2 2 0
2 2 0
2 1 0
2 0 0

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Reaves Secretary. President.

No. 20

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

William B. Wiseman

Sum insured, $4.000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four Thousand Dollars on Barque J. D. Thompson and Outfits. for Voyage as each as valued in the margin At and from the 15th Sept. 1859 at Noon

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & Outfits September 15th 1859 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 15th 1859 at noon.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 20.000

Outfits $ 30.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

September 15th 1859 at noon

Prem....$ 320.
Policy.... 1
$ 321.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Barque &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Barque &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fifteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

No. 21

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1500

Elnora F. Morton

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Fifteen hundred Dollars on Barque Northrop and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from Fairhaven August 11th 1885

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & Outfits August 11th 1885 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 11th 1889 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 9000

OUTFITS $6.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Barque &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured. their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of None per cent. if the risk ends within four years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 135.
Policy..... 1

August 11th 1889 at noon

$136.
79.53
215.53

1yr. 2mo. 19dys
360
60 10
430

405
40
79.53
40 53
2160
340

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Barque &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Barque &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Nineteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

No. 22

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8000.

Gibbs & Jenney for account of whom it may concern loss payable to Gibbs & Jenney,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand dollars on Ship E. L. B Jenney and Outfits in triplicate as enlisted in the margin Aboard the ~~ship~~ for safety ~~September 6th 1855~~. At and from Manilla February 19th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said ~~ship and outfits September 6th 1855 at noon~~ February 19th

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before ~~February 19th~~ September 6th 1855 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 20.000

OUTFITS $ 20000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, ~~their~~ factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, ~~their~~ executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a ~~longer time, until~~ to return three & a half per cent of the risk ends within Six months and

Prem.... $ 100 —
Policy. 1
$401 —

no loss is claimed until September 6th 1856
~~February 19th~~ September 6th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Secretary. President.

No. 93

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,
$ 800

John R Boston

to be insured, lost or not lost, Fifteen hundred Dollars on Ship John Cozzens and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from Fairhaven July 17th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits. July 17th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 17th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ 14000

OUTFITS $ 8000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, &c, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Ten days. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 120 —
Policy.... 1
$121

July 17th 1859 at noon

20,66

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John R Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 24

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Edmund Allen for account of whom it may concern loss if any payable to Edmund Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Ship Northern Light and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At and from

Sum insured, $ 8000

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship and Outfits September 22d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 22d 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 25000

OUTFITS $ 25000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel and Outfits or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel & or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 640
Policy.....

September 22 1859 at noon

$ 6 11.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel & aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel & whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

360
60
23
443

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

$ 12.15
1.2.23

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Secretary. President.

No. 25

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Charles M Morgan

Sum insured.
$ 1000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Ten thousand dollars on Catchings on board Ship Condor as entered in the margin

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 175 per gall
Whale Oil, 75 " "
Whale Bone, 45 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 7th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 16th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time one month, if the risk ends within less remaining two & a half per cent. until Sept 16th 1857 at noon

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1
$ 201

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Wm. R. Harris Secretary.

President.

No. 26

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Andrew N. Allen,

Sum insured, $ 2500

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty five hundred Dollars on Ship Alexander and Outfits proportionably on each as valued in the margin At and from New Bedford September 3d 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

(Ship) now at sea September 3d 1855

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3d 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 15000

OUTFITS $ 25.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Four and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy.....
$ 201.
46 50
$ 247.50
To Feb 10 —
5 mo 17
3d

September 3d 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the third day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Haines Secretary.

President.

Fairhaven June 26. 1888

$308.02 Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Co
Three hundred and eight 2/100 dollars in full for loss on the within Policy as per adjustment made by M. H. Taylor

A. H. Potter

Fairhaven Jany. 13. 1889.

$2259.51 Rec'd of the Fairhaven M.M.I. Co
Twenty two hundred and fifty nine 51/100 dollars in full for loss under the within Policy & Interest due thereon.

A. H. Potter

No. 87.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Wm. G. E. Pope. For account of whom it may concern but if any payable to William G. E. Pope.

Sum insured, $ 5000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Five Thousand Dollars on Merchandize on board Barque Francis Hennetta, At and from New Bedford Sept. 28th 1855 on a Whaling Voyage with liberty to trade, and Partners until said Merchandize is landed and Vessel at $100

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Merchandize September 28th 1855 as soon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ One Year and ~~pro rata for a longer time, until~~ the Return from home and end of the risk and not Less.

Prem....$ 250
Policy.....

warranting Free of a half per cent.

$ 251.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Merchandize aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Merchandize whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty eighth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Travel Secretary.

President.

No. 28

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

Wm. P. E. Pope, for account of whom it may concern, his, [illegible] payable to William P. E. Pope.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board ship

Consider as noted in the margin.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1,75 p gall
Whale Oil, 75 " "
Whale Bone, 45 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 16th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, [illegible] factors, servants, and assigns, to, sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said [illegible] or of any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ the return for time not used if the risk ends without loss, commencing

Prem....$ 100
Policy.... 1
$ 101.

Two and a half per cent.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A. Vanes Secretary.

President.

No. 29

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2500.

George Aussey for account of whom it may concern in I am liable to Geo Aussey.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Oil on board the Intrude, At and from Newyork to Melbourne. as valued at 2. months

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil. October 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of ~~per cent. if the risk ends within longer time, until~~ One and three fourths per cent. ~~and pro rata for a~~

Prem....$ 43.75
Policy.....
$ 44.75

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil. whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

360.
180.
22.
562.

No. 10

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000.

Samuel E. Tripp for account of whom it may concern loss if any payable to Samuel E. Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost,

$2000 on the Hull Rattan & Tackle of Ship Gay Ann as ordered in the margin. At and from

Valuation.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

Pata Sept 10th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

September 10th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 16th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Four per cent. if the risk ends within Ten and pro rata for a longer time, until Ten months from the arrival of the Bark Gay Ann at this port Provided her boats, outfit & Catchings

Prem....$ 60
Policy.....

$ 161.

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Secretary. President.

No. 31

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause [illegible]

Sum insured.

$ 2000

Loyalty Co.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship [illegible]

(Crate as ordered in the margin. At and from [illegible] 1855

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil, 1. 15 per ac

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings from [illegible]

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before [illegible] 1858. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, [illegible] factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, [illegible] executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of [illegible] per cent. if the risk ends within [illegible] and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ the Returns for [illegible] and each [illegible] months, without [illegible] Insurance.

Prem....$ 100

Policy..... 1

$ 101.

Two and a half per cent. until July 27th 58 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

Wm. A. Davis Secretary.

President.

No. 32

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause John P. Taber for account of whom it may concern loss if any payable to John P. Taber.

Sum insured, $ 7500

to be insured, lost or not lost, Seven thousand five hundred Dollars on Ship Lord Nelson and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At and from New Bedford October 8th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Ship and Outfits. October 8th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before October 8th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 18,000

OUTFITS $ 22,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 000
Policy..... 1

October 8th 1859 at noon

$ 601 16

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 73

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3000

Samuel B. Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three Thousand Dollars on Ship Samuel Watt and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from Fairhaven October 10th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & outfits October 10th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 10th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16000

OUTFITS $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 240
Policy.....
$ 241.
3 63.
5 04,33

October 10th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co
Fairhaven Mass 1859.

The liability of the within named Company ~~on this policy~~ ceases with the tenth day of Oct. 1859 unless ~~upon the within policy until amount of said premium~~ for the term of six months from the
~~or the note~~ premium
~~at her post of discharge~~ Z. Fairhaven

John A Avery
Sec'y

Oct 10/59

15.5.17.4.

No. 34

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

George F. Wing

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two thousand Dollars on Ship General Scott and Outfits proportionally, on each as valued in the margin At and Fairhaven October 10th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits October 10th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 10th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160 —
Policy..... 1
$ 161.

October 10th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hames Secretary. President.

Office Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co

Fairhaven Nov. 15th 1859

The Mutual Policy is Hereby continued for the term of Eight months from the tenth day of October 1859 at noon at the rate premium

John Allen Sec'y

F. R. Wheeler Pres't

No. 35

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

Steam Ship

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two thousand Dollars on Hull, Guns & Sails

and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin

At and from Fairhaven October 11th 1854

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Hull & outfits October 11th 1854 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 11th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16000

OUTFITS $ 16000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy.... 1
$ 161
175.55

October 11th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 11th day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Wm. D. Howes Secretary.

President.

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co.
Fairhaven Nov. 9. 1859

The within Policy is hereby continued six months from Octobr 10th 1859 at noon at pro rata premium.

F. R. Whitwell Pres.
John Adams Sec.

No. 36.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

James Insph 2d

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One Thousand Dollars on Ship General Scott and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At and from Fairhaven. October 10th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits October 10th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 10th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of eight per cent. if the risk ends within Ten Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 80.
Policy.... 1
$ 81.—

October 10th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

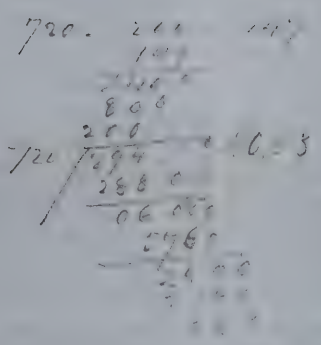
The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.—

John A Hawes Secretary.



President.

Office Fareham Fire Ins Co

Fareham 11th Sept 1859

The within Policy is hereby continued for the term of Six months from the tenth day of October 1859 at noon at the rate premium for John A Hawes Secy.

No. 37

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2500.

James T. Cox,

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Isaac as valued in the margin hereon the ans May 22d 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75 per gal
Whale Oil, .70 " "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel. or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings May 22nd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 22d 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $ ———

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1
$ 201.
40.83
241.83

June 22d 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A Haines Secretary. President.

No. 35

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2800

Elenathan E. Slocum

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty eight hundred Dollars on Bark Maria and Outfits Proportionately on each as valued in the accounts A[illegible] and from Newbedford October 8th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits October 8th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 8th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 23000

OUTFITS $ 2200

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 224
Policy..... 1

October 8th 1859 at noon

$ 225
1.
2 96.42

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Secretary. President.

No. 39.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured.
$ 3000

Charles D. Saben

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three Thousand Dollars on Ship Elizabeth & Bal[illegible] Jr personally on each as entred in the margin At and from New Bedford October 11th 1835.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits October 11th 1835 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 11th 1839 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ 13,000

OUTFITS $ 19.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 240
Policy.....

October 11th 1839 at noon

$ 241

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

120-240-717
240
1440
17 1080 | 23.
1440
2708
5480
5040
4400

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eleventh day of October one thousand eight hundred and thirty five

Wm A Howe Secretary. President.

No. 40

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2500

J. P. Bartlett and ors. For account of whom it may concern

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Ship Seraph and Profits for fortunate, as each as valued in the margin hereof

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

New Bedford October 13th 1858.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: beginning the Adventure upon the said

October 13th 1858

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 13th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16000

OUTFITS $ 24000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1
$ 201

October 13th 1859 at noon

1

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirteenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty Five

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

No. 11.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Tomy Mugs to insure $ Ten Thousand $10000 00 Sum insured, $ 3000 Dollars payable to Tomy Mugs,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Ship Sarah and Outfits

Sperm Oil, Whale Oil, Whale Bone, respectively on each as valued in the margin At and from

Mattapoisett October 13th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits. October 13th 1855 at noon Twenty Four hours as the ship sat Mattapoisett

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and ~~anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House,~~ if she shall so return before

October 13th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 15.000

Outfits $ 19.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

October 13th 1859 at noon

Prem....$ 640)
Policy..... 1)
$ 641

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fifteenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 12

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 7110

Daniel K. Hathaway)

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Seven hundred Dollars on Barque Winthrop and his proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from Sept. 9th 1858.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Barque Winthrop Sept 9th 1858 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before August 11th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 9,000

OUTFITS $ 16000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 63
Policy..... 1

August 11th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

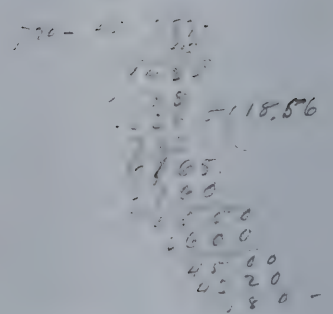
It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.



This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty 7

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 12.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Shift & Allen for account of whom it may concern

Sum insured. $ 500

payable to Shift & Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Five hundred Dollars on Barque Montgomery, and Outfits

Jointly or each as valued in the margin. At and from Nantucket

August 21st 1837

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque Montgomery August 21st 1837 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 21st 1839 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 14,000

OUTFITS $ 21,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 175
Policy...

$ 175
18.75
$64.56

August 21st 1839 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the nineteenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John Secretary. President.

No. 44

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 3000

Phineas E. Tomy

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Three Thousand Dollars on Ship Stephania and Outfits

VALUATION. Sperm Oil. Whale Oil. Whale Bone.

Particularly on each as valued in the margin, At and from Anjier. July 22d 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits July 22d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 2d 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12,600

Outfits $ 14,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ the return for time and risk if the risk ends within two Years Nine per cent

Prem....$ 270
Policy..... 1
$ 271

until August. 2d 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty second day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Franks Secretary. President.

Fairhaven Aug. 21st 1886

Ins. 180.56
Ins. 6.34
$186.90

Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mills Co. one hundred and eighty six 90/100 dollars in full for loss & interest due as per on the within policy of this date.

) A. C. Terry

No. 45.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1200

Phineas E. Terry

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twelve Hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Stephania as valued in the margin. At and from the 1st July 22nd 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75 per gal
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 48 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings July 22nd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 29th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ —

OUTFITS $ —

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until London sc.,

Prem.... $ 96
Policy.... $ 97 96 21.60

August 29th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings, whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty second day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty —

John A. Haines Secretary.

President.

No. 40

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2500.

Wm C. R. Swift for account of Hannah A. Perry. loss if any payable to Wm C. R. Swift

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Ship Alexander and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At & from New Bedford September 3rd 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Vessel at Noon of September 3rd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3rd 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 3125

Outfits $ 24,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 200
Policy....
$ 10

September 3rd 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty third day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hawes Secretary.

President.

Fairhaven June 26th 1858

$308.02 Recd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Co
Three hundred & eight 02/100 dollars in full for loss on the within Policy as per adjustment made by Wm H Taylor Esq.
300.
180.
32.
512 dn

Hezekiah H Pease
by Eben Pease

Fairhaven Jany 13. 1859

$2259.51 Recd of the Fairhaven M.M. Ins Co
Twenty two hundred fifty nine 51/100 dollars in full for loss on the within Policy & interest due thereon.

Eben Pease
for W. H. Swift

No. 47.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,
$ 500

Schr Eldridge,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Mary Ann as valued in the margin At and from Paita September 1st 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. . 45 per gall
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings September 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 16th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ —

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings, or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for Time not used if the risk ends sooner than Policy Terminates from date of Policy

Prem....$ 50
Policy..... 1
$ 51.

until September 16th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the sixth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Havens Secretary. President.

No. 48

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause R. L. Baxter & Owners Dr. and for account of whom it may concern

Sum insured, $ 2500

if any payable to. Rogers & Baxter

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Valuation.
Sperm Oil, 1 ½ c
Whale Oil, 90
Whale Bone,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Barque R. L. Baxter as noted in the margin. At and from St. Helena July 6th 1855,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings July 6th 1855 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before May 12. 1858 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until At Noon for time not used of the risk as written Rec'd Marquette Bank Log [illegible]

Prem....$ 175
Policy..... 1
$ 176.

until May 12th 1858 at noon

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 49

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,

$

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ ~~and pro rata for a longer time, until~~

Prem....$

Policy.....

$

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary.

President.

No. 30

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

R. L. Baxter. for account of. Said Sayles Esqr. & Co.
Sayable &c.
Rogus L. Baxter.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Bark
R. L. Baxter as valued in the margin. At & from St. Helena
July 6th 1855.

Sum insured, $ 1000

Valuation.
Sperm Oil, 1/3 Sh. ea
Whale Oil, 80
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings July 6th 1855 at noon
Mond Twenty four hours at the wharf in Matapoisett.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 12th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, ~~his~~, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time not used if the risk ends within less, transactions from date back for cash until

Prem....$ 30
Policy..... 1
$ 31

May 12th 1858 at noon

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

Wm. A. Hawes Secretary. President.

56.
56.58
3 66/8.8

No. 57

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 500

Edward A. Burns

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight hundred Dollars on Barque Bulgar & Outfits

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

per Journal, in each as valued in the margin At & from Fairhaven August 18th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque & Outfits August 8th 1855 as now

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12000

August 18th 1859 at noon

OUTFITS $13,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured. his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 64
Policy..... 1
$ 65
56.88
121,88

August 18th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty 7/

John A. Haven Secretary. President.

Parkdown June 12 1877

$21.50

Receive of the Parkdown Mutual Manu Co. —
Twenty one dollars & 50/100 cents being the amount due me for loss on the within policy, (cattle & cow shed) as per annexed a/c made up by Wm H Taylor.

Sam'l H. Elder & Son per Order of Wm H. Burns

North Falmouth June 9th 1857

Mr Hawes please pay to Samuel Eldridge the amount due me on the Insurance of my part of the Bark Wolga & this shall be ~~my~~ your receipt for the same Edw Burns

No. 52.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 5,750

Jonathan Bourne 2d. for account of Theodore Ellis of ... any ... payable to Jonathan Bourne 2d.

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Five thousand seven hundred & fifty Dollars

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone,

on Ship Masonry and Outfits proportionably on each as valued in the margin. At & from New Bedford October 10th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits October 10th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 10th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16,000

OUTFITS $30,100

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 1440

Policy.

October 10th 1859 at noon

$ 461.

350.75

31.15

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 33

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8000

Swift and Allen for account of whom it may concern as per Invoice of Swift & Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Barque Eugenia & Outfits
Specifically on each as valued in the margin At & from
New Bedford (November 3d 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque Outfits November 3d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 3d 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 18000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $ 26...

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Four years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 640
Policy.... 1

November 3d 1859 at noon

$ 641
2.07 .14
11.83 .14

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the third day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

[illegible]

[illegible] and forty one dollars on [illegible] for 1935 on the [illegible] as per adjustment made by Wm H Taylor Feb 1, 35.

Wm H Allen

No. 54

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 8000

F. R. Whitnell for account & whom it may concern Ship Jany Gamble &c. F. R. Whitnell

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Barque Joseph Maxwell

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

and Outfits. Proportionately on each as value & in the voyage at & from Fairhaven. Number 3rd 1858

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel valued, including Premium. $ 12000

Barque & Outfits. Number 3rd 1858 at noon

OUTFITS $ 1600

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Number 3rd 1859 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c. or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c. or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within twelve months, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 640
Policy.... 1
$ 641.

Number 3rd 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c. aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c. whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the third day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A. Haw Secretary. President.

No. 50

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 4500

Sand B Kempton In account of whom it may concern
(as it may prejudice to Sand B Kempton)

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Forty five hundred Dollars on Brig Barnstable and Cargo Jointly in each as noted in the margin

At & from New Bedford October 29th 1857

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Brig & Cargo October 29th 1857 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 29th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 15000

Outfits $ 28.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

October 29th 1859 at noon

Prem....$ 360
Policy.....

$ 361

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 12 day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty 7

John A Francis Secretary. President.

No. 56

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

Vendon Fish

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One thousand Dollars on Ship Japan & Outfits specifically on each as valued in the margin hereof, from

Fairhaven November 6th 1853

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits - November 6th 1853 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 6th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 28000

Outfits $ 28000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 80.
Policy..... 1
$ 81.

November 6th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

Copy.

New Bedford Feby 17. 1857. I hereby transfer my interest in the within Policy, to William S. Blackler, the same to be paid to him in case of loss. he having purchased from me the said Property

Reuben Fish

a True Copy

Attest John A. Harris Secy

No. 57

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

F. R. Whitnell for account of whom it may concern Lay Jany

Sum insured,

$ 7000

Loyable &c

to be insured, lost or not lost,

F. R. Whitnell

Seven Thousand Dollars on Ship Japan & Cutch

Valuation.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

Jointly & severally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven

November 6th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Cutch November 6th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 6th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$ 28000

Outfits $ 28000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until $ 561.

Prem.... $ 560

Policy... 1

November 6th 1859 at noon

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hames Secretary.

President.

No. 25.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 500

Joseph Pope

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight hundred Dollars on Barque Morgan & Cargo proportionally on each as ordered in the voyage. At & from Fairhaven August 18th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Barque Morgan August 18th 1855 a noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 18th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12000

OUTFITS $ 13.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the said, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 64
Policy.....
$ 65

August 18th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

Office I. M. Main Mc. Office
Fairhaven. May 7. 17

$ 21.50.

Recd. of the above named Office the sum of Twenty one dollars & fifty Cents. Being the sum due me on general average of 1/2 on Cables & Anchors — as per a/c as made up by W. H. Taylor.

Joseph Sope
by Benjamin L. Tubes

No. 59

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause R. M. Sexton For account of whom it may concern Ors if any

Sum insured, $ 100

payable to R. M. Sexton.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Six hundred Dollars on Catchings in bond Ship Mary Ann As valued in the margin At & from Tonby September 20. 1857

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 145 p gall
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings September 20th 1858 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before October 16. 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year. and pro rata for a longer time, until To return for time out and of the risk ends in port Wednesday 3rd daylight ca

Prem....$ 30
Policy.... 1
$ 31.

anter. September 16th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 60

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Samuel C. Tripp for account of Samuel Potter Co Lay payable to Samuel C. Tripp

Sum insured, $ 1000.

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on Board Ship Nay Ann as related in Register. At and from the 3 September 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.50 per gal
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings. September 20th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 16th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of [illegible] per cent. if the risk ends within [illegible] and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 5.-
Policy....

$ 51
2.-- 52.33

September 16th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance: provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A. Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 61

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1500

Isaiah Bent

to be Insured, lost or not lost, Twenty five hundred Dollars. on Ship Hudson & Outfits for Voyage as each as valued in the Manifest Sept 1

Fairhaven December 16th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits December 16th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

December 16th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel & Outfits or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel & Outfits or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy.....
$ 201.

December 16th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel & Outfits aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel & Outfits whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Stanwood Secretary. President.

No. 62

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 2000

Roland Fish

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Dollars on Ship Clifford Wayne and Outfits, proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven, December 17th 1855,

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfit, December 17th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 17. 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12,000

Outfits $ 20,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy..... 1
$ 161

November 17th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventeenth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 43.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured $ 1000

W. R. Whitwell for account of whom it may concern. Ship Lagoda Co. T. R. Pickens

Lagoda Co.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six thousand Dollars on Ship Clifford Wayne & Cutter

Instrumentally in each as valued in the margin. And from Fairhaven November 19th 1858.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship Clifford Wayne Cutter November 19th 1858 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 19th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12,000

OUTFITS $ 20,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 480.
Policy.....
$ 7181

November 19th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the nineteenth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 04

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Stephen Dibbs for account of himself $175, for account of Sun. [illegible] $3000 for any [illegible] Stephen Dibbs

Sum insured, $ 3500

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Valuation.
Sperm Oil. 175 per gall
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone. 48 " 96

Thirty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Needwell. as valued in the margin. And from Whereinsoever the same may arise in Safety. July 19. 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings July 19th 1855 as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before November 16th 1857 as aforesaid.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, until the return for time one mid of the risk ends within Up. Mauritius and a half per cent. until. November 16th 1857. as aforesaid.

Prem....$ 175
Policy.....
$ 176

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Monday day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

Rec'd of the Fountain M M In Co Forty 62/100 dollars for Loss on the within policy as per "make up"
W H Taylor Agent 22/5/7 Stephen Gibbs

Fountain Hotel 22/61.

No. 15.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Jennes & Fish for account of whom it may concern, both if any

Sum insured. $ 3500

payable to. Jenney & Fish

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Thirty five hundred Dollars on Ship Hudson & Batchs

VALUATION. Sperm Oil. Whale Oil. Whale Bone.

particularly as each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven

November 20. 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Batchs. November 20. 1855 as above

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

December 20. 1859 as above

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16000

OUTFITS $ 18000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 280
Policy....

$ 281.

November 20th 1859 as above

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twentieth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty.

John A. Vance Secretary.

President.

No. 16

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

Joseph U. Taber.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two thousand Dollars on Ship Hudson & Outfits

Sperm Oil, Whale Oil, Whale Bone, respectively as enlisted in the margin hereof.

Fairhaven November 20th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits - November 20th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 20th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 11,000

Outfits $ 18,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160.
Policy.... 1
$ 161

November 20th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

No. 17

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 600

Charles Tamon for account of Andrew Fuller Loss if any

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six hundred Dollers on Catchings on Board

Ship Barclay as valued in the margin. At & from St. Helena to Stonington 26th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1,500 gls
Whale Oil, 200 "
Whale Bone, 5 " 1b

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings September 26th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 1st 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 48
Policy " "
$ 49

August 1st 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the second day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 66

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 7200

Edmund. Mayfield for account of whom it may concern Ins'd and payable to Edmund Mayfield.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Seven Thousand two hundred Dollars on Catchings on board the Ship William Penn, as included in the assignment, and from adherence of the same of on safe by September 5th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 181 per gall
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone. 50 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings September 5th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 2nd 1854 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until the return for time not used of the risk and notice left warranty Int a Lay in case

Prem.... $ 360
Policy... "
$ 361.

October 2nd 1854 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

BOX No. 117

To the Post Office at Fairhaven, Mass., Dr.

For Postage of Letters, rom	Jan 1	to	Mch 31	1857 - -	$
" " " Transient printed matter for quarter ending				185 - -
" " " Newspapers for quarter ending			June 30	" - -	16
" Office Box, for quarter ending			March 31	" - -	25
					$ 41

PAID

No. 69

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 500

Benjamin F. Bartlett.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

for [illegible] on the ship [illegible] whereof [illegible] is master, [illegible] at and from the Island of Oahu. she was safe. July 30th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark Offsets. July 30. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 25th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $ 12 . . .

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said [illegible] or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, [illegible] factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said [illegible] or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, [illegible] executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five & one half per cent. if the risk ends within [illegible] and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 107.50
Policy... .
$ 43.50

June 25th 1855 at noon

$343.75

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the [illegible] aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said [illegible] whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Hamm Secretary. President.

Fairhaven Mutual Insurance Co's Office
Fairhaven Feby 9. 1847.

$138.22

Received of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, the sum of One hundred & Thirty ~~eight~~ dollars and Twenty two cents; being in full for all demands against the said Office, on account of loss of Bark Bruce, and outfits, insured in the within Office.

Benjamin F. Bee & Co

Memorandum

Sum insured	343.75
50 per cent. to be paid	171.87
Less premium note.	33.65
	$138.22 per Bee & Co.

No. 76

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 11000

"Isaac F. Tom for account of whom it may concern Loss if any payable to Isaac F. Tom.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eleven thousand Dollars. on Ship Mr. Henry & Outfits for precisely as each as valued in the margin. At & from

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

Fairhaven December 1st 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship Henry. December 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

December 1st 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 14000

OUTFITS $ 14.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c. or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 480
Policy.... 1
$ 481

December 1st 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Thos. C. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 71

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1750

Albert Sawin

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Seventeen hundred & fifty Dollars on Ship Gilbert Wm

And Outfits for such Voyage as valued in the margin &

Sea from Fairhaven December 1st 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits. December 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

December 1st 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium. $ 11000

Outfits $ 6000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem ...$ 140
Policy ... 1
$ 141

December 1st 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon, in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded: and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 1st day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John [illegible] Secretary.

President.

No. 72

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,
$ 1200.

Ship Warren

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twelve hundred Dollars on Catchings on Board Bark Lagrange, as valued in the margin. At & from Wherever she may be in safety.

October 14th 1857 at noon

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 [illegible]
Whale Oil. 80 [illegible]
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings October 14th 1857 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 21st 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 96
Policy.... 1
$ 97.

May 21st 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Secretary. President.

No. 73

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 12 m

Nath[l] S. Tabor

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twelve hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Lagrange, as valued in the margin. At & from the ... the com. of in Safety. October 14th 1857

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 pr
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings Octobr. 14th 1857 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 21. 1858. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

May 21st 1858 at noon

Prem.... $ 96.
Policy.... 1
$ 97.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John Williams Secretary.

President.

No. 74

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Marlbn. Bradford. For account of whom it may concern

Sum insured. $ 1200

Up of any payable to Marlbn Bradford

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twelve hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Lagrange. as valued in the margin. At & from where she was for safety. October 14th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 Bbls
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings. October 14th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before May 21st 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until May 21st 1858 at noon

Prem.... $ 96.
Policy..... 1
$ 97.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Harris Secretary. President.

No. 75

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

John Howard

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Lagrange, as mentd in the margin. At & from whence she was. Sd in safety October 14th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 ₰ gal
Whale Oil. 50 " "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings October 14th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 21st 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 80
Policy.....
$ 81.

May 21st 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the third day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Howard Secretary. President.

No. 76

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 2150

John T. Abate. For account & per indorsement on the back hereof. Loss if any payable to John T. Abate

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty one hundred & fifty dollars. on Bark Saint & Outfits. Proportionately on each as noted in the margin. At & from Hallowell ( ) 185.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits. December 4th 1858 as noon moved twenty four hours at the Wharf at Mattapoisett

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and ~~anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if~~ she shall so return before

December 4th 1859. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 1.000

Outfits $ 600

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Outfits or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel & or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within One Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 212
Policy....

December 4th 1859 at noon

$ 213
52.50
52.50

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel & aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel & whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fourth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

Secretary. President.

[illegible] Bonnes [illegible]

[illegible]	500
[illegible]	500
[illegible]	900
[illegible]	300
[illegible]	300
[illegible]	350
Samuel Hurlevant Jr.	300
John Adam	200
Edward S. Adam	$2,650

No. 77

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 375

P. E. Mumford,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 180 ⁴
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

Three hundred & seventy five Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Ponce. as valued in the margin hereof from Noon of the date hereof July 30th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings July 30th 1855. at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 28th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, (his) factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, (his) executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 33.75
Policy..... 1.
$ 34.75

June 28th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eleventh day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

298 1/3 GG
Jun — 1854
$375.

Office I. M. & Ins Office.
Fairhaven June 15. 1857

$129.37. Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Manuf. Co. the sum of One Hundred & Twenty nine 37/100 dollars being in full for all demands against said Office. for Loss on Bank Bonds as insured by the said Co's

D. E. Merrihew
By J. W. Whitwell
Attorneys

No. 78

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Warren Island for account of Whom it may Concern

Sum insured, $ 6000

loss if any payable to Warren Islands to be insured, lost or not lost, Six Thousand Dollars on Ship Phillips & La Noye &

VALUATION. Sperm Oil, Whale Oil, Whale Bone, their proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven. (December 18th 1838)

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Ship & Outfits December 18th 1838 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before December 18th 1839 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 20,000

OUTFITS $ 2,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Ship &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Ship &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 480
Policy.....
$ 480.

December 18th 1839 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Ship &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Ship &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine

John A Howes Secretary. President.

No. 19

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 8000

Smft. and Allen for account of whom it may concern

Ch. of any Bayabe &c. Smft & Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil & Bone on Board

Ship Sterling Star. ~~At & from~~ as valued in the margin At Spm

Honolulu S.I. to New York.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil. 80 pr gun
Whale Bone, 50 " lb

~~wherever she may go on a whaling voyage~~, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil & Bone. October 8th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until ~~she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if ~~the risk ends within~~ and ~~pro rata for a longer time, until~~

Outfits $

Prem....$ 160
Policy.....

$ 161

Per annum as per Slip

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil & Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil & Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

Boston Jan 15 1846

$ 1175.52.

Rec'd Fifteen Million Manufacturers Insurance Co
Four hundred and Seventy five 52/100 Dollars being amount in full for general coverage by us of the Ship Thos Hastings Master as per Policy No 79

Wright & Allen

HF 175 .F7
.M61
1846
Cage

No. 50

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Stephen Tubbs. In account of whom it may concern. Lp.t. any Payable &c. Stephen Tubbs

Sum insured, $ 1.0

to be insured, lost or not lost, Forty Two hundred Dollars on Crew, the Catchings of (Ship Rhodolite) on Board. Ship Lent Pike. At & from Honolulu to New Bedford. October. 29th. 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone, 18.11

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Crew. October 29th. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Crew or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Crew or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Ten per cent. if the risk ends within Five Months. and pro rata for a longer time, until Ten annual at New Bedford

Prem....$ 84
Policy..... 1
$ 55.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Crew aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Crew whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 91

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 937

to be insured, lost or not lost,

(One hundred & thirty seven Dollars on Bark)
Cavalli & Outfits. Particularly on each as valued in the Margin
At & from New Bedford September 29th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits. September 29th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 29th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 1200 00

OUTFITS $ 1800

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bark &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the said factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bark &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 74,96
Policy...

September 29th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bark &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bark &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twentieth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

No. 52

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1600

Thomas E. Trembley

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Sam'l Robertson as valued in the margin. At & from Amulula Sandwich Islands. October 27th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 1800 per
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone, 20 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings. October 27th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 18th 1856. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings, or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings, or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 20
Policy....
$ 20.

August. 18th 1856. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Secretary. President.

No. 63.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 500

[illegible]

to be insured, lost or not lost, Five hundred Dollars on Catchings in Brig Ship Java. as valued in the margin. At & from Amelia S. J. C. H. Oct. 28th 1857.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 Dollars
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 30 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings October 28th 1857 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before April 19th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ —

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 40.
Policy... 1
$ 41

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

No. 84

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8000

Gibbs & Denney for account of whom it may concern

Copy of any papers &c. Gibbs & Denney

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight thousand Dollars on Oil on board Brig Leander at & from Honolulu S.I. October 22d 1855 for a passage direct

Valuation.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone.

whereof she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil October 22d 1855 as soon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two and one half per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ ~~and pro rata for a longer time~~, until

Prem.... $ 200

Policy.... $ 201

In arrive at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

William R. Tames, Secretary.

President.

No. 55

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 2000

Franklin Hatch

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Wm Rotch as valued on the margin Ats from Honolulu S. I. October 27th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 per gal.
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings October 27th 1855 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 18th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five Months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 40
Policy....
$ 40

August 18th 1856, at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Sixth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Haines, Secretary.

President.

No. 84

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 2500

James R. Turner

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings as per

Ship Sam Robertson now under the Master. At & from Honolulu October 27th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 80 p gal
Whale Oil. 50 "
Whale Bone, 50 lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings. October 27th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 18th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of two per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 50
Policy....
$ 31.

August. 18th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty sixth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John R Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 57

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 2500

Sarah F. Terry for account of whom it may concern lys

Jas Bayate & Co. Sarah F. Terry

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings a boat

Ship Sam'l Robertson as valued in the margin. At Honolulu.

Valuation
Sperm Oil, 150 p gal
Whale Oil, 85 " "
Whale Bone, 30 " lb

Honolulu. October 27th 1855.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings October 27th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 18th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two per cent. if the risk ends within five months, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 50
Policy.... 1
$ 51

August. 18th 1855 at noon

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second day of September day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 88

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $

E Sawin for account of whom it may concern Sp's

as Payable &c. E Sawin.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Thirty two hundred & fifty Dollars on Bone in Brig Ship Rambler as noted in the margin. At & from Lahaina (Sandwich Islands) October 19th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone, 50 ℔.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bone. October 19th 1855 as soon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, ~~until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 15
Policy.....

the arrival at the Port of discharge in the United States

$ 96

Nov. 16 1855 paid

1 yr. 7 mos. 27 ds.

200.
210
28
597.

150 65

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the First day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Haines Secretary. President.

Fairhaven Jany 13th 1879.

$3.688.38

Recd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co
Thirty two hundred & thirty eight 38/100 dollars in full for loss or claim under Policy & interest due thereon.

E. Sawin

No. 59

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Nathan Church for account of Melton Lee Esq. & ano.

Sum insured, $ 600

Payable to. Nathan Church

to be insured, lost or not lost, Six hundred Dollars on Catchings a board Ship Amazon, as valued in the margin, At & from Bahama S. I.

November 3d 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil. 50 pr gall
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings. November 3d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 29th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem....$ 12
Policy...
$ 13

September 29th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

Secretary. President.

No. 90

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Welcome J. Sawtin for account of Theodore E. Sawtin.

Sum insured, $ 300

Ships if any payable to Welcome J. Sawtin.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Three hundred Dollars on Catchings a board Ship Christopher Mitchell as valued in the margin. At & from Batavia September 16th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil. 80 p gall
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings. September 16th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 5th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within three months. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 6.
Policy.... 1
$ 7.

July 5th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fifth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A. Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 91.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1420

Nathan Church for account of whom it may concern, & if any payable &c. Nathan Church.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Four thousand four hundred & twenty Dollars. on &c

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil. 80 bbls
Whale Bone,

on board Ship Rambler as named in the margin. At & from Lahaina. (P.I.) October 16th 1885.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

&c October 16th 1885 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until ~~she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 88.40
Policy ...

$ 89.40

an annual as per list of Surcharge in the Custom House.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventh day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A Hames Secretary. President.

Statement.

Loss on Cargo of Ship Amazon on board Ship Rambler abandoned March 7th 1857.

Premium not deducted.

Int from May 10th/57 to April 23rd/58

4420.
296.25
4123.75
235.76
$4359.51

Fairhaven April 23rd 1858.

$4359.51

Received of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company the sum of Four thousand three hundred and fifty nine 51/100 dollars the same in full for all loss or claims against said Company on or under the within policy No 91.

Nathan Church

No. 92.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Nathan Church for account of whom it may concern. By

Sum insured, $ 7333

any payable to Nathan Church

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Seven Thousand Three hundred & thirty Three Dollars on Bone on board Ship Caroline. as valued in the margin. At from Lahaina. S. I. October 17th 1853

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone, 10 p. C

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bone. October 17th 1853 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Ten per cent. if the risk ends within five months, and pro rata for a longer time, until the arrival at the first of discharge in the United States

Prem.... $ 14.1.66
Policy.... 1
$ 147.66

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventh day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John L Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 93.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Lorenzo Pierce for account of Sand Sutton Esq of

Sum insured. $ 600.-

on paybacks. Lorenzo Pierce

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Pierce. as inland on the margin. At & from "Mauritius"

September 23d 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 p. gall
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings September 23d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 15th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time over and if the risk ends within 6 mo. Manuf. Mos to half per cent.

Prem.... $ 30
Policy.... 1
$ 31

June 15th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty-4

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 94

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

James F. Henry

Sum insured, $ 600

to be insured, lost or not lost, Six hundred Dollars on Nautical Instruments, Merchandize and Furniture on board Ship Empire, At & from Honolulu I. I. September 15th 1853

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Instruments &c. September 15th 1853 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 600

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Instruments &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Instruments &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until her arrival at her port of discharge in the United States.

Prem.... $ 12
Policy.... 1
$ 13

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Instruments aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Instruments whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

Not accountable for any loss unless occasioned by wreck or stranding

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A Haines Secretary. President.

No. 95

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 100

Joseph Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three hundred Dollars on Bark Outfits & Catchings as valued in the margin, and Three hundred Dollars on Catchings on board said Bark, as valued in the margin. At & from whenever she was safe in safety on September 22d 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 150
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark Outfits & Catchings September 22d 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 28th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10.000

OUTFITS $ 12.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bark &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bark &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five dollars per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 33.
Policy... 1
$ 34.

June 28th 1858 at noon

166 2/3 94
Ins. 1800
#300.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bark &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bark &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John C. Williams Secretary.

President.

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co.

Fairhaven May 26. 1857

$ 249.44

Received of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co.
Two hundred & forty nine dollars & forty four cents in full for all demands against said Office for loss on Bark Bruce, Suspt. & Catchings. as insured in the ~~anchor~~ policy of which the within is a copy

Joseph Foster

Memorandum

Insured on Suspt. & Catchings.	300
50 per ct. ~~70~~	150	150
Ins'd on Catchings.	300.
48 per ct Ins.		146. 18
		294. 18
less 111. per ct		14. 41
		279. 77
less Com note		34.
		245. 77
3 mo. do		3. 67
		249.44 Com paid.

Jan 30th

Jan 1st to Calvings - 300.

53 days at 1st 150/150

150

Calvings.

Jan Brand 16

48 days at 1st 156.00

144.18

2.97.18

16.-

279.37

Jan 16 days at

Jan from and 24.-

24 3.37

3 days at 2nd

3.06

249.44

P. Jan -

Calvings and 37

40 at

Jan 1st

1.21

11.12

762.21

762.62

Sch.

Sum on Policy No 44. 271.
Int. 18.97

" " " 45 74.40
Com. 5.18 369.55

Sum on Policy No 44. 160.26
Int. 6.24 1×6.90

$182.65

271
18.97
289.97
79.58
369.55

74.40
5.18
79.58

289.97
156.10

No. 75

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. R. Hinx for account of whom it may concern

Sum insured, $ 550

Loyalty to E. R. Hinx

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Five hundred & fifty Dollars, on Catchings on board Brk Consock as valued in the margin. At 6pm Honolulu S.I. November 29th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil, $60 p bbl
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings November 29th 1855. at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 1. 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

August 1st 1857 at noon

Prem....$ 27.50
Policy.
$ 28.50
5 1/2
7.75

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty 7

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 97

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1550

E. R. Almy,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Fifteen hundred & fifty Dollars on Catchings on Board Ship Speedwell as valued in the margin, At & from Honolulu, November 9th 1855,

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil. 30 p bbl
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings November 9th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 16th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves. Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Ten per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 32 50
Policy....
$ 33.50

November 16th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Wm. A. Adams Secretary. President.

No. 45

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Swift & Allen for account of whom it may concern. to pay any payable to Swift & Allen

Sum insured, $

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil & Bone on board Bark Covington, (being Copper fastened & Sheathed with Yellow Metal) at and from Lahaina Nov. 21st 1855 to Marion Rh. as in the margin. At & from Lahaina Nov. 21st 1855 to Marion Rh.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 165 pair
Whale Oil. 75 " "
Whale Bone. 45 " lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil & Bone. Novmbr 21st 1855. at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, ~~until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within five months, and pro rata for a longer time, until her arrival at her port of discharge in the United States.

Prem....$ 160
Policy.... 1
$ 161

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil & Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil & Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eleventh day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

J. H. Adams Secretary. President.

No. 49

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Smft & Allen for account of whom it may concern, to be insured, lost or not lost,

Sum insured. $ 6060

Any payable to. Smft & Allen.

Six Thousand & Sixty Dollars on Oil Bone or Bone Shd Ship Virginia (Catchings) of Bark 3 E Fonnell as valued in the margin, At & from Lahaina Nov 16th 1855 for Ten Months

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 165 per
Whale Oil. 85. "
Whale Bone, 1.15. "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil & Bone November 16th 1855 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five and pro rata for a longer time, until her arrival at her port of discharge in the United States

Prem.... $ 121.32
Policy.... 1
$ 122.32

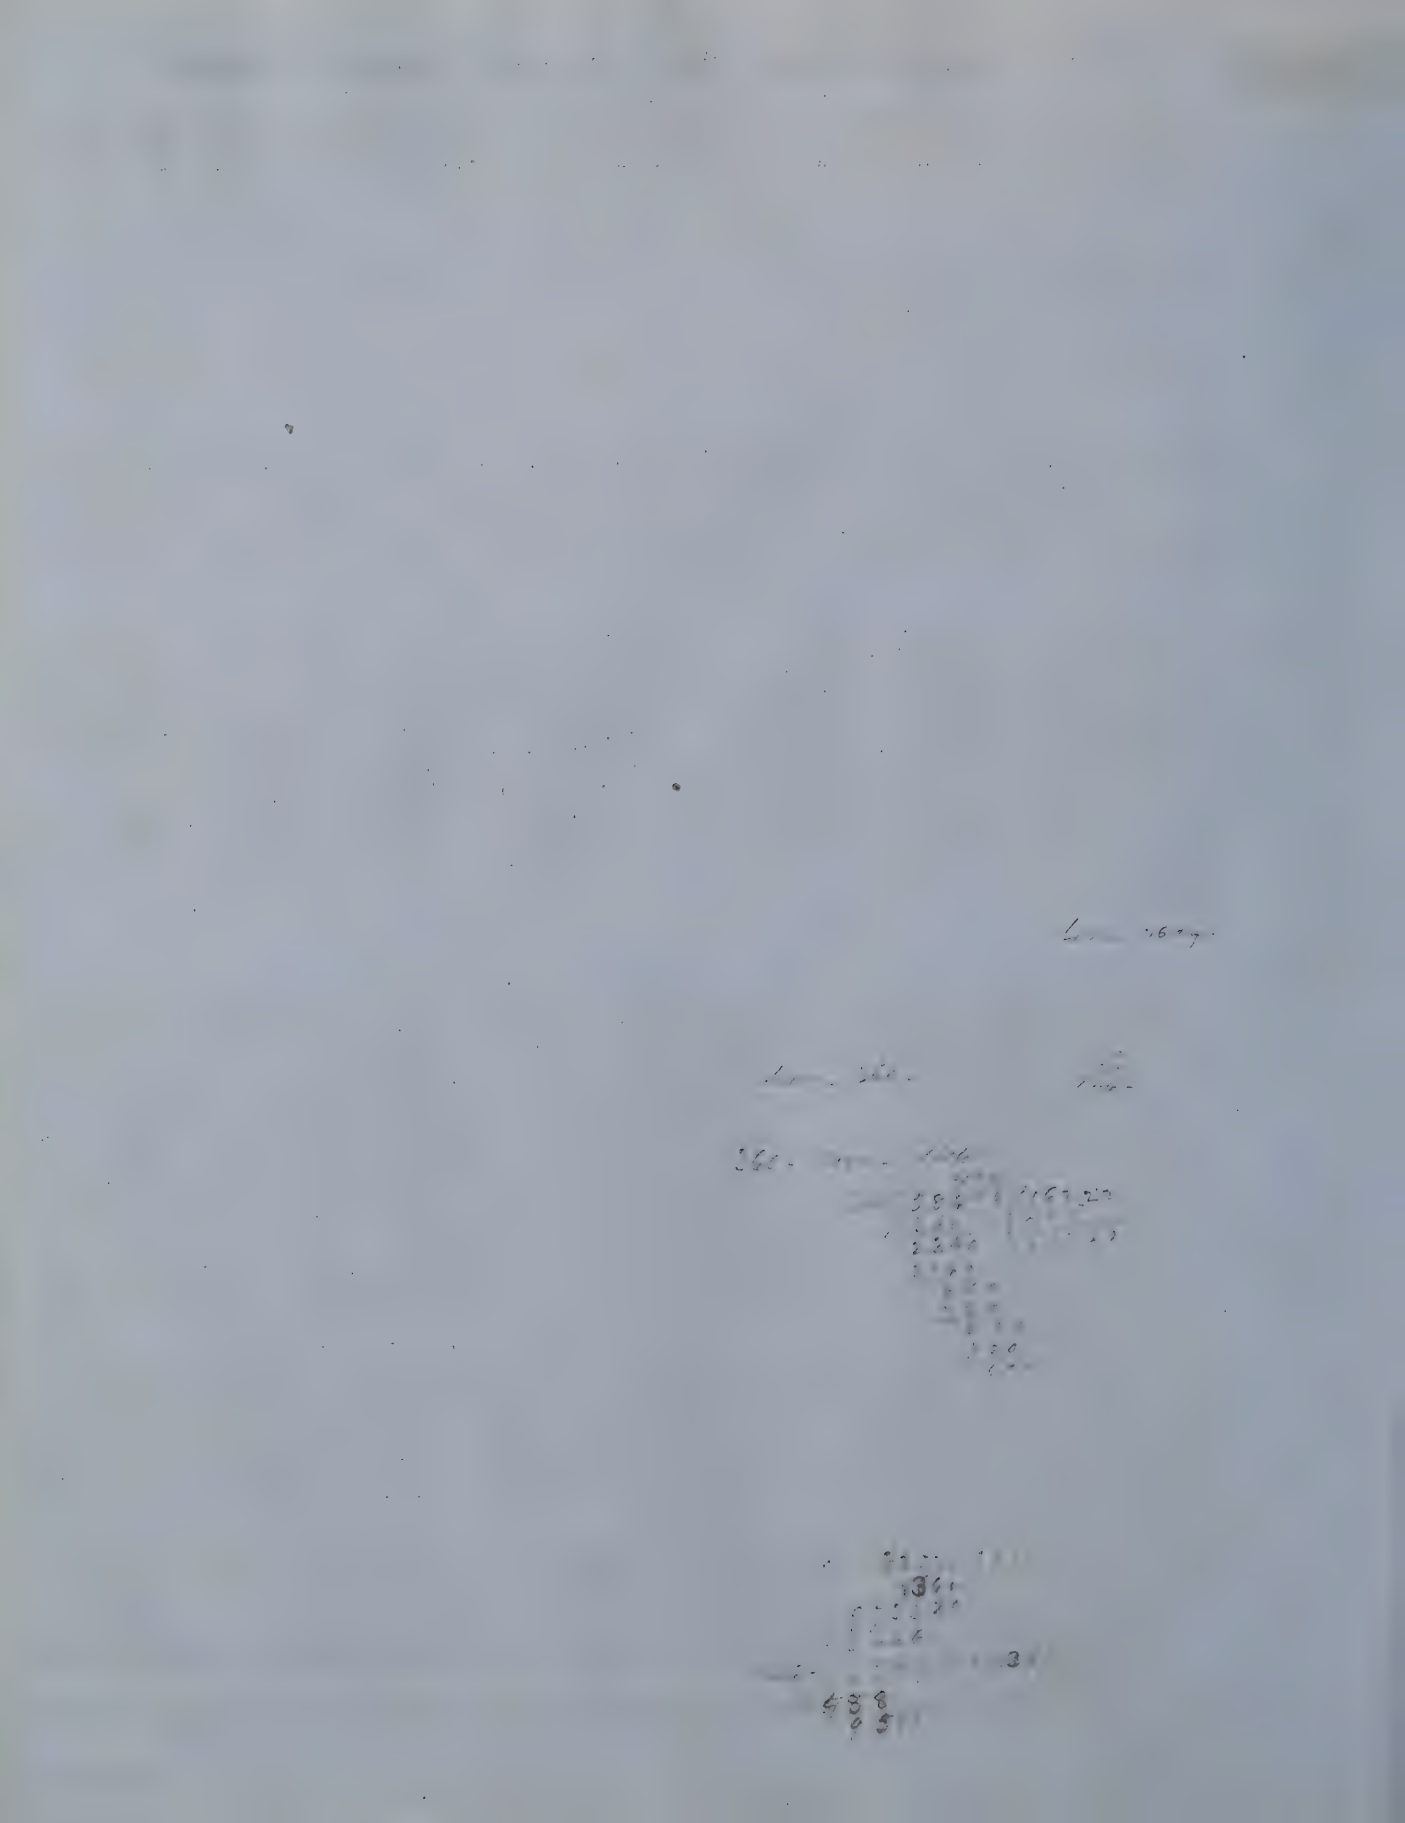
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

Secretary. President.

No. 100

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Smft. & Allen for account of whom it may concern. Loss if any payable to Smft & Allen

Sum insured, $ 5000

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Eight Thousand Dollars on Catchings & Legal Bark J. E. Emmons as valued. The voyage At Sea from Lahaina, November 6th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 165 gal
Whale Oil. 95 "
Whale Bone, 45 lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings November 16th 1855 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before August 30th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 100
Policy.....
$ 101—

August 30th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty Five

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 101

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. Sawin for account of whom it may concern Ops of any

Sum insured, $ 3000

(Payable to E. Sawin,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil on board Ship

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil. 50 hogsd

Whale Bone,

B. F. Hoxie, (being Catching) of Ships Stat'l as valued in the marg.n A 1 from Honolulu for Novembr 23rd 1855 for New York

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil Novembr 23rd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, ~~until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Four per cent. if the risk ends within For the Voyage and ~~pro rata for a longer time~~, until

Prem....$ 140

Policy....

$ 141.

the amount at the port of discharge in the United States

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

John A. Howes Secretary. President.

No. 102.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Fish Robinson & Co. for account of whom it may concern

Sum insured. $

C/f of any Injuries &c. Fish Robinson & Co.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four Thousand eight hundred & Sixty dollars on Oil on board Ship Adeline, (Jenny Catching of the Sandwich Islands) as Valuation. Sperm Oil, 130/egal Whale Oil, Whale Bone, valued in the margin. At & from Lahaina Nov. 24th 1855 for Sandwich

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil Novembr 24th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 97.20
Policy...
$ 98.20

her arrival at the Port of discharge in the United States.

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Haines Secretary.

President.

No. 103.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Fish Rotinson Hd Co. account of whom it may concern

Sum insured, $ 5000

Sops if any payable to Fish Rotinson Hd Co.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Five thousand Dollars on Catchings on board ship

Florida as valued in the margin. At & from Honolulu S. I.

November 30th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1200 1/2
Whale Oil, 30.
Whale Bone, 10. 0.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings November 30th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 11th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 400
Policy.... 1
$ 401

October 11th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Wm. A. Howes Secretary.

President.

No. 104

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Fish Robinson & Co for account of Thos W. Williams $2250. & for account of J. Phinney $250. Loss if any payable to Fish Robinson & Co

Sum insured, $ 2500

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on Board the Ship Florida as valued in the margin, At & from Honolulu S.I. November 30th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 p bbl
Whale Oil, 30 " "
Whale Bone, 45 " lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings. November 30th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 11th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

October 11th 1858 at noon

Prem....$ 200
Policy.... 1
$ 201

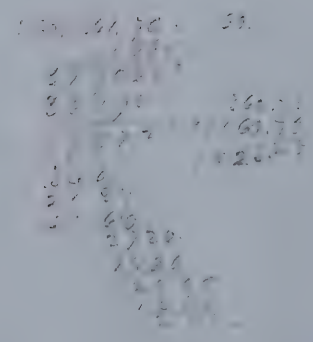
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eleventh day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 115

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Swift & Allen for account of whom it may concern, Ship

Sum insured. $ 72.34

any payable to. Swift & Allen to be insured, lost or not lost, Seven thousand two hundred & thirty four Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Enoch Swift, at & from the as valued in the margin. At & from Lahaina S I.

November 26th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 165 ₱ gal.
Whale Oil. 75 " "
Whale Bone, 45 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings November 26th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 6th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 361.70
Policy... 1
$ 362.70

September 6th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John D Hames Secretary. President.

No. 106.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

William Bowne

to be insured, lost or not lost, Two thousand Dollars on Ship Panchita & Outfits proportionally in each as valued in the margin. At & from Fayal. September 13th 1858

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits September 13th 1858 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 7th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 141.000

OUTFITS $ 20.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel & Co or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel & Co or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 160
Policy..... 1
$ 161.

August 7th 1859 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel & Co aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel & Co whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty eighth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Haines
Secretary.

President.

No. 107

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 500

Rogers & Baxter as agents of Frank Coleman Jr.
Loss if any payable to Rogers & Baxter to be insured, lost or not lost, Five hundred Dollars on Catchings on Frank Bark C. L. Baxter — valued at ...

July 1st 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 80 p gall
Whale Oil. 30 "
Whale Bone.

Catchings July 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 12th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, (his) factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 25
Policy... "
$ 25.

May 12th 1858. at noon

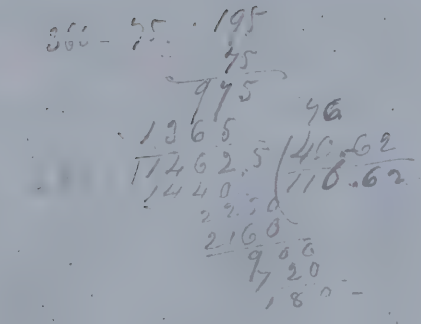
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible].

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 105

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1500

Jonathan Whalen

to be Insured, lost or not lost, Fifteen hundred Dollars on Catchings in Board Ships Henry Rowland, as valued in the margin hereof from Date

November 7th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 130 pr. gun
Whale Oil. 80 "
Whale Bone, 30 " lb

Catchings November 7th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

September 4th 1858 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings,) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ the option for time not less of the risk ends within Six months Eight months to a half

Prem.... $ 75
Policy.... 1
$ 76

per cent. until September 4th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 7th day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty 5.

Wm A Hunt, Secretary. President.

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co.

Fairhaven July 22. 1857

$29.71

Rec'd of the above named Office the sum of Twenty nine dollars and Seventy one cents. being the amount due me on the within policy as for general average as made up by

W H Taylor. Jonathan Wilcox

360 30. 256

2,72

No. 169

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 900.

Edward Penney for account of Jonathan Penney Up Yard Franklin

Edward Penney

to be insured, lost or not lost, ~~Six~~ Hundred Dollars on Catchings on Board Ship

George as valued in the margin. At Sea from Lahaina

(— November 16th 1857.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, [illegible]
Whale Oil, 50 "
Whale Bone, 50 "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

(Catchings) November 16th 1857

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 20 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 45 30
Policy..... " 1
$ 46 31
2 [illegible]
52 [illegible]

September 20th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 110

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Wm S. E Pope for account of Jesse A Hacker $1700 for account of W. Cahoon $1700 Ch of Jany Fayette &

Sum insured. $ 2400

Wm S. E Pope

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty four Hundred Dollars on Catchings in Said Ship Argus or valued in the margin At & from Lahaina. S.I.

November 12th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil, 70 p. ton
Whale Bone, 50. 0

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings Nineteen 12th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 24th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until To cclusive for the use of the Catchings on this Ch Remaining on board at the date

Prem....$ 120
Policy..... 1
$ 121.

August 24th 1856. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

Wm A Wares Secretary. President.

No. 111

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Wm S. E Pope for account of whom it may concern Lfs if any Payable to. Wm S. E Pope

Sum insured. $ 2400

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty four hundred Dollars on (Merchandize on Board Ship Med Hunter, At & from Boston to San Francisco Cal

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

~~wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage,~~ or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Merchandize January 8th 1856 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, ~~until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 2400

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Merchandize or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Three per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ for the Voyage ap... and ~~pro rata for a longer time, until~~

Prem....$ 72
Policy.... 1
$ 73.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Merchandize aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Merchandize) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

-20 - 42.50 - 195-

5125
38250
4250
82875

360 | 82875 (43.50
720 2302
1087 6652
1080
750
720
30

No. 112

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 850

Wm Bonnell

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight hundred & fifty Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Henry Rowland, as noted in the margin. At & from Sakaina. Month 7th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1800 p gall
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings Month 7th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 4th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Free per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ To Return for time if any and if the risk ends within Eight Months, less by 1/2

Prem....$ 42.50
Policy..... 1
$ 43.50

until. September 4th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirteenth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty 5

John A Holmes Secretary. President.

Fairhaven, July. 25. 1857

$16.83-

Recd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co- Sixteen dollars & 83/100- being the amount due me. for. general average loss on. their Policy of Insurance. No. 112.

Terry Brown M

No. 113.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 400

Nathaniel S. Higgins

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Four hundred Dollars on Catchings on Bank Iona as valued in the margin. At and from St. Helena

December 14th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 100 p. bbl
Whale Oil, 75 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " lb

Catchings December 14th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 27th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five & one half per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ To return for time not used if the risk ends within the warranted limit

Prem....$ 22
Policy.... 1
$ 23

In case of return May 27th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 14th day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John L Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 114

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3800.—

Penny & Snipe, for account of whom it may concern, to pay any Payable to Penny & Snipe

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Thirty eight hundred Dollars on Catchings in Bark Iowa as valued in the margin At & from St. Helena December 14th 1881.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.80 pr gau
Whale Oil, 75 " "
Whale Bone, 45 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings December 14th 1881 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before May 27th 1887 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five & one half per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time not used if the risk ends without loss. Premium, for the Log Book notice

Prem.... $ 209
Policy... $ 210.

May 27th 1887 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the Insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventeenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty Nine

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 115

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Reuben Fish. for account of whom it may concern. Sp if any

Sum insured, $ 4850

payable to Reuben Fish to be insured, lost or not lost, Forty eight hundred & fifty Dollars, on bil on board Ship Tiger as noted in the margin. At & from Sabunia for Stonington

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 for gau
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil December 6th 1853 as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two per cent. if the risk ends within Five months, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 87.60
Policy....
$ 88.60

In arrival at Stonington

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twentieth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 116

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 900.

Reuben Fish for account of whom it may concern. loss if any payable to Reuben Fish

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Nine hundred Dollars on Bone on board Bark Louisa, as enlisted in the margin. At & from Lahaina for New Bedford

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone, 45 p lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bone, November 29th 1835 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 18.
Policy 1
$ 19

the arrival at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty sixth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hames Secretary. President.

No. 117

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000 ⁰⁰

Phineas E. Merrihew.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Bark "Iowa" as noted in the margin. At & from St. Helena December 14th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 180 p gw
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone. 45 " lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings December 14th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 27th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of four & one half per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used if the risk ends within U.S. Maranzas Inc. 4 & half per cent.

Prem....$ 55.
Policy ... 1
$ 56

until May 27th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Secretary. President.

No. 1185

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1800

Welley & Swift

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eighteen hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Louisa. as valued in the margin. At & from Sadaina. Novmbr 30th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 85 p gow
Whale Oil. 17. 60.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings - Novmbr 30. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 31st 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of two per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem.... $ 36 —
Policy.... 1
$ 37 —

August 31st 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourth Third day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 114

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

William E. Butler.

Sum insured. $ 500

to be insured, lost or not lost, Five hundred Dollars on Bone on board Bark Louisa, as valued in the margin. At & from Lahaina for & to New Bedford November 30th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone, 30 p. ℔

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Bone November 30th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

the arrival at New Bedford,

Prem....$ 10
Policy 1
$ 11

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

27.

3 mm. 27 ops.

720 - 315 - 117 -

315

585

117

351

360

No. 120.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Loring Mills for account of whom it may concern, by [illegible] as per indorsement on back hereof

Sum insured, $ 3500

B. Loring Mills

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three five hundred Dollars on Bark Marcia's Outfits, [illegible] each as valued in the margin. At & from Mauritius August 25th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Bark & Outfits August 25. 1855 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before April 11th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 19,000
OUTFITS $15,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel & or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel & or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until April 11th 1858 at noon

Prem.... $ 315
Policy... 1
$ 316

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel & aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel & whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty seventh day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

Secretary. President.

The within insurance is covered as follows

Martin Stout	$ 4000
George J. Adam	4000
L. Meyer & Co	2000
L. Meyer	700
	$ 33700

No. 122

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 4000

F. R. Whitwell

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Four thousand Dollars on Catchings a board Ship Charles W. Morgan. as noted in the margin. At & from Lahaina. ( ) November 7th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 180 pr gallon
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings Novmber 7th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

September 20th 1857 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 80
Policy.... 1
$ 81.

September 20th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty eighth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 122

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1582.

Baby Island,

to be insured, lost or not lost, Fifteen hundred & Eighty two Dollars on Bone on board Ship "May" as valued in the usage Act from Honolulu for Edgartown November 7th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone, 50 per Ct.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Bone. November 7th 1855 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within five months and pro rata for a longer time, until the arrival at Edgartown

Prem....$ 31.64
Policy....
$ 32.64

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty ninth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John A Hames Secretary. President.

No. 123

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 800.

Samuel Sturtevant Jr For account of Samuel L Mitchell
Ufs Jany Peoples &c.
Samuel Sturtevant Jr

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight hundred Dollars on Catchings on Board Bark Susan as valued in the margin. At & from whence she was

December 22nd 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 180 ₱ gall.
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 30 " "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings December 22nd 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 17th 1859, at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 40
Policy....

$ 41.

November 17th 1859, at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Haines Secretary. President.

No. 124

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 4000

Nachaniel Tompkins

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four Thousand Dollars, on Catchings on board Bark United States. as noted in the margin. At & from thence the Ocean. November 28th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $1.50 per gal.
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said (Catchings) (November 28th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before November 11th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurors are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five Dollars per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until the return [illegible]

Prem....$ 220
Policy...
$ 221

November 11th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 2nd day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Homes Secretary. President.

No.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured.

$

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem....$

Policy...

$

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

No. 125

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2750

Wm. S. & E. Pope for account of whom it may concern

Lays of any Vessels &c. Wm S. & E. Pope.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Twenty seven hundred & fifty Dollars, on oil on board

Ship ~~Bengala~~ Abigail, now (at sea) of Ship Bengal, at & from Valuation $ 80 p bbl

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone.

the Marquesas. At & from Sandwich Islands Nov. 15th 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil. November 12th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

Outfits $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Six Months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 51

Policy... 1

$ 56

at the Arrival at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty 5

John Flavers Secretary. President.

No. 1265

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Wm C. A. Swift for account of James B. White Esq. [illegible] to Wm C. A. Swift

Sum insured, $ 1000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board the Ship Wm Thompson, as valued in the margin. At & from Sakhaura November 27th 1855

VALUATION
Sperm Oil, 180 p bbl
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 30 " lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings November 27th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 2nd 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used if the risk ends without Loss. Interest, Discounting & Cash

Prem....$ 30
Policy.... 1
$ 31.

November 2nd 1857 at noon

Nihil

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6.

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

Memorandum.

Ps on Ship & Outfits) due March 6th 1837.		2201.10
Int on " " " " " to March 17th 1838.		136.09
Ps on Catchings due Sept 28th 1837.		1034.95
Int on " " " to March 17th 1838.		28.81
		3400.95

Amt of Premium Note.	541
Int. to March 17th 1838.	24.82
Balance due.	2835.13.	3400.95

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co.
Fairhaven March 17th 1838.

$ 2835.13

Received of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, two thousand eight hundred & thirty five 13/100 dollars being the balance due me in full for all demands, which I have against said Office, or account of loss, on the within Policy No 126.

Witness — Thos Delano

No. 127

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

Tillinghast Tompkins

to be insured, lost or not lost, Thirty two hundred Dollars on Ship Alexander Coffin and Outfits for Pittuacky as each as valued in the margin and Twenty eight hundred Dollars on Catchings of said Ship, as valued in the margin. At & from Lahaina November 27th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 150 p bbl
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

vessel outfits & Catchings November 27th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 21st 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 14.000

OUTFITS $ 12.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until To deduct for time not used if the risk ends within 6 M. & remaining this premium.

Prem....$ 540)
Policy.... 1
$ 541)

entire.

September 21st 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fourth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 128

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. Sawin for account of whom it may concern Ufs if any payable to E. Sawin.

Sum insured, $ 8000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on (Catchings) in Hyda Bark Hydaspe (being Catchings of Ship Akbar) is valued in the manner & from Fairhaven for a New Bedford Jany 26th 1856

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

(Catchings) January 26th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 185 p. acc
Whale Oil. 30 " -
Whale Bone.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five Months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem. ... $ 160
Policy ... "
$ 160.

Ten annum at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirty first day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No. 129

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. Sawin for account of whom it may concern. Ship Sarah Dyable Jr. E. Sawin

Sum insured, $ 6,500

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six[ty] five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Amazon, as valued in the margin. At and from thence the Seas of the Pacific

1st Jan 12th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 60 p. gal.
Whale Oil, 30 "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings January 12th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 29th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within five months) and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$
Policy.....

$

September 29th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixty first day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6

John Adams Secretary. President.

No. 130

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Thomas S. Hathaway for account of J. Vincent. Lop if any payable to ~~J. Vincent~~ Thos. S. Hathaway

Sum insured.
$ 2000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Two Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Swift as valued in the margin, At & from Mangaia Island. July 8th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 1.50 P. gall
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

(Catchings) July 8th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 18th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, ~~his~~ factors, servants and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, ~~his~~ executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until To return for time not used if the risk ends within Six Months

Prem....$ 100 -
Policy ... 1
$ 101.

For a half per cent more
June 18th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the First day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

John A Hames Secretary.

President.

No. 131

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000.

Paul Spooner

to be insured, lost or not lost, Two Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board ship "Sea Gull," as valued in the margin, At and from where she was if in safety July 1st 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $1.30 ℔ gall.
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings July 1st 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 1st 1857 at noon.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160.
Policy.... 1
$ 161.

July 1st 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the [illegible] day of [illegible] one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

[illegible] Secretary. President.

No. 132

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,

$

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone,

whereever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until ~~she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

OUTFITS $

Prem....$

Policy.....

$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and Assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. ~~if the risk ends within longer time, and pro rata for a longer time,~~ until

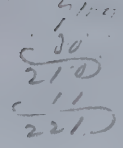
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

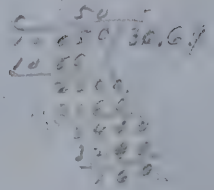
It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.



Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

310. 30. 221.

No. 133.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1000

Stephen P. Briscoe

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Thousand Dollars on (Catchings on board Ship Montebello as valued in the margin. At & from Honolulu to the Northward and Westward) Jan'y 1st 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 130 Bbls
Whale Oil, 50 " "
Whale Bone, 5 " 16

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings January 1st 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 6th 1857 at

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time not used if the risk ends within that Period, Insuring for a half per cent.

Prem....$ 50
Policy...
$

until September 6th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty 2nd

Wm A Hamm Secretary. President.

Memorandum

Ins on Patching due Dec 30th 1887. 203.39
Int to June 28th 1888. 3.86 200.25

Ins note due Dec 14th 1887. 81.69
Int to June 28th 1888. 3.40.
Balance due June 28th 124.16. 200.25

Dunham June 28 1888

$ 124.16 Received of the Farnham Mutual Marine Ins Co
(Seventy Five 16/100 dollars in full for all
One Hundred demands against said Co arising out of loss on the ship Mondsolum Patching as insured in the within Policy, no 133.)

L. C. Dunham

No. 124

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

Leonard Hammond)

to be insured, lost or not lost, One Thousand Dollars on (Ba[illegible] Saints & Cut, it for Particularly on each as ordered in the margin. At Fairhaven Massachusetts

December 4th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits December 4th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

December 4th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 6.000

OUTFITS $ 6000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said [illegible] or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, [illegible] factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said [illegible] or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, [illegible] executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

December 4th 1857 at noon

Prem....$ 90
Policy..... 1

$ 91.37
3.37

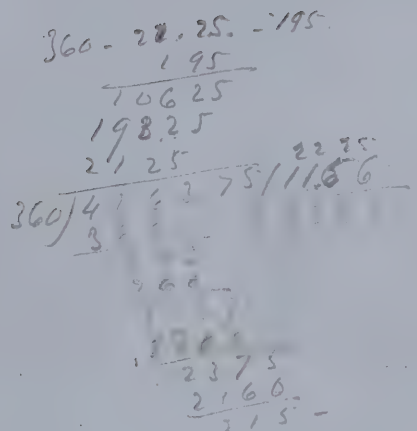
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c [illegible] aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c [illegible] whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 135

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 475

William C. Parker

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four hundred and Twenty Five Dollars on (the ship) or Brig Chas. Henry Rowland, as valued in the margin. At Sea from Panama, November 9th 1855

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 60 Cts
Whale Oil, 50 "
Whale Bone, 50 "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings November 9th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 4th 1856 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Ship Chas. Henry) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Ship Chas. Henry) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used if the risk ends without Capt. Armstrong

Prem....$ 21.25
Policy..... 1
$ 23.25

Sent a half per cent. until September 4th 1856 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Ship Chas. Henry) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Ship Chas. Henry) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the eighth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Secretary. President.

No. 156

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Gibbs & Jenney for accounts of Stephen Bolles Esq & Co as may appear to be

Sum insured, $ 1000

Gibbs & Jenney

to be insured, lost or not lost, One thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Adeline Gibbs, as valued in the margin. At & from Schooner Honolulu

December 26th 1855.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $150 p gall
Whale Oil, 80 "
Whale Bone, 20 "

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings December 26th 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 12th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

September 12th 1857 at noon

Prem....$ 30
Policy..... 1
$ 31

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 26th day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

John Akin Secretary.

President.

No. 137

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3500

Ship Tom A. Tabor

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Three thousand Dollars on Ship Wm Rotch as valued in the margin and Twenty five hundred Dollars on Catchings on board said Ship proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 Tons
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

Talcahuano January 23rd 1856

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Catchings January 23rd 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she ~~shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 9,000

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Ship &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Ship &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two and One Half per cent. ~~if the risk ends within longer time~~, until and pro rata for a

Prem....$ 87.50
Policy.....
$ 87.50

Ten annual at Fairhaven

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Ship &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance: provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Ship &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

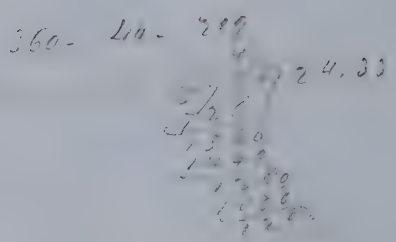
It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.



This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twelfth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 188

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 800

Delano & Case.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight Hundred Dollars on Catchings in the Ship Montpelier as valued in the margin At & from where she may be for the safety.. Dany. 2nd 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 ₰ gall
Whale Oil, 80 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " ℔

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings Dany 2nd 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 6th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until the return of the vessel to the port from which she sailed without loss of time, and deviation, &c. &c. excepted.

Prem....$ 40
Policy.... 1
$ 41 - 24.32
65.32

September 6th 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventeenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Tawes Secretary. President.

Memorandum.

Sop on Catchings due Dec 30. 1887	162.71
Int on " " to June 12. 1888	4.41	167.12

Amt of Premium note due Oct 14th 87	65.33
Int to June 1888	2.60
Tax due	99.19	167.12

Office Fairhaven M M Ins Co —
Fairhaven June 12th 1888

$99.19 Rec'd of the Fairhaven M M Ins Co Ninety nine 19/100 dollars in full for the balance due me on Policy No 138. for all demands against said Company or a/c of loss on the within Policy.

Witness

No. 134

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 5000

Gibbs & Jenney for account of whom it may concern, lop of any payable to Gibbs & Jenney

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil on Board Ship Hector or valued in the margin, said oil being the Catchings of Ship Amel Gibbs Master from Talcahuano March 8th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 180 ⅌ ann
Whale Oil, do
Whale Bone, do

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil March 8th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 110
Policy.... 1
$ 161

One annual at Rendezvous

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 27th day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Secretary. President.

No. 140

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Rogers L Barston for account of whom it may concern Ships Sang

Sum insured, $ 8000

Payable to Rogers L Barston

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil on board Ship Emerald

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil, 1.80 p. gall

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

Being Catchings of Bark Elizabeth / as valued in the margin At & from Talcahuana for New Bedford March 8th 1846

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil March 8th 1846 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ and ~~pro rata for a longer time~~, until the arrival at New Bedford

Prem.....$ 160

Policy .....

$ 160

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty two

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 1115

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3200

Rogers L. Barstow for account of whom it may concern.

(If any. Payable to Rogers L. Barstow)

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Thirty two hundred Dollars on Bark Willis and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin, At & from whereon she was of in safety. March 1st 1856 at noon

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits March 1st 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 25th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 6,000

OUTFITS $ 6,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c., or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c. or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Six per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used of the note and mortgage this Company Three per cent

Prem.... $ 192
Policy.... 1
$ 193

Insd

May 25th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c. aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c. whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty four

John A. Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 41

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 600

Rogers & Baxter for account of whom it may concern as their interest may appear

Ins. if any payable to Rogers & Baxter

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six thousand Dollars on Bark "San Carlos" for passage on such as valued in the margin. At & from Matanzas

April 19th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark "San Carlos" April 19th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

April 19th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 7,000

Outfits $ 9,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 540
Policy ... 1
$ 541

April 19th 1860 at noon

And it is hereby agreed, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance: provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days: and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded: and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war: but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured: and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Nineteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John C. Haines Secretary. President.

The within Policy is for account as follows

R. L. Baxter	3000
O. S. Munroe	1,000
W. J. Munroe	1,000
Eph Root	500
Thos C Mann	250
John Wall & Son	200

For value received I hereby transfer all my right, title, and interest in the within Policy to R. B Congdon Trustee

Fairhaven Oct. 14th 1857

Roger L Baxter
(Seal)

Witness John A Hawes

Agt Fairhaven M M Ins Co.

No. 143

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause S. Thomas & Co. for account of whom it may concern

Sum insured, $ 8000

Lop. if any payable to S. Thomas & Co.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight thousand Dollars on Oil in Stand Bark Calpharnia (being Catchings of Bark Morning Star) at Galapagos Bay, At & from Cataluna for the Northward Feb. 2nd 1846

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. $1.50 per
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil. February 2nd 1846 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium. $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy.....
$ 161

Two annual or Renewal Premiums

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty first day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

Secretary. President.

No. 144

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1,500

P. Thomas & Co. for account of whom it may concern, As it appears Payable to P. Thomas & Co to be insured, lost or not lost, Fifteen hundred Dollars on Bark Robert Pennell, as valued in the margin, for the term of Twelve Calendar months At & from New Bedford April 21st 1856 subject to the restrictions and provisions Contained in the Policies on said Bark issued by the Insurance Companies in New Bedford

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, ~~or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound,~~ whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark April 21st 1856 at noon & ending April 21st 1857 at noon with liberty to lie at anchor 4 days for news.

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 1500

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bark or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bark or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eleven per cent. ~~if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until~~

Prem....$ 165
Policy... 1
$ 166 warranting eleven per cent in case of loss, & return four per cent if the Policy be stopped at the end of eight months,

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bark aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bark whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Second day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Frances Secretary. President.

No. 145

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,

$ 600

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$ 600

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 3

Policy.....

$ 3

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

No. 116

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. Sawin for account of whom it may concern. Ship if any payable to E Sawin

Sum insured, $ 3160

to be insured, lost or not lost, Thirty one hundred & sixty dollars on Bone on board Ship Ocean Telegraph. At & from Sandwich Islands. Feby 20. 1856. for 1 to New York

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone, $3160

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Bone Feby 20th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until ~~she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Ten per cent. if ~~the risk ends within~~ and pro rata for a ~~longer time until~~ his arrival at New York,

Prem....$ 73.20
Policy.....
$ 73 20

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

By consent of parties the policy No 147, under which the within is a copy is cancelled – No loss on the within buildings having ever

No. 147

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E Sam for account whom it may concern, $ 6500

Sum insured. $ 6500

Same E. Sam

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Ship Sarah Burton as enlisted in the margin. At from Sawdon

Sch Fair Trader & Sch Rollers on Catchings in Ind.

December 18th 1856 at 8

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil. 145 p bbl

Whale Oil. 75

Whale Bone, 55 c

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings December 18th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 4th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, Sam factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 325.

Policy..... 1

$ 326

November 4th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Said Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 5th day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty [illegible]

John C Adams Secretary. President.

By consent of parties, Policy No 114, of which the within is a copy is hereby cancelled ~~on life~~ in consequence of said property being reshipped — and no lien under this Policy, subsequent to December 18th 1876 - to be claimed

E. Savin

John A Haven Jr

No. 145

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause F R Whitwell For account of whom it may concern, viz / any payable to. F R. Whitwell)

Sum insured, $ 5000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Five Thousand Dollars on Oil & Bone on board Ship Rambler Ans Extension of Ship's Regd. ... for ... Ports ... As ... from Hilo for Newbedford. ... 26th 1856 at ...

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, ...
Whale Oil, 80. ...
Whale Bone, 50. ... lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil & Bone. (Number 26th 1856 at ...

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil & Bone or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within Five months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 100
Policy..... 1
$ 101.

One annual at Newbedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil & Bone aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil & Bone whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty 7

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 149

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1800

Ramon Solano,

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eighteen hundred Dollars on Ship Martha & Ruth's Proportionately in each as valued in the margin, At & from Fairhaven

May 13th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

May 13. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 13d 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 1500

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $ 150.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within four years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 144
Policy..... 1
$ 145

May 13th 1860 at noon

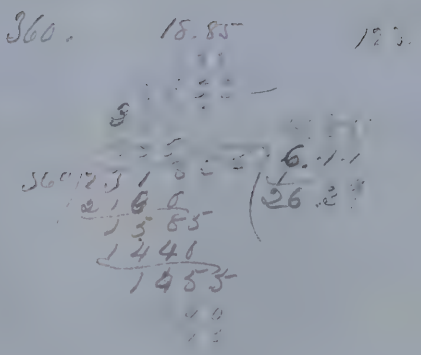
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six

John A. Hames Secretary. President.

No. 150

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 377—

Daniel Lawrence.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three hundred & seventy seven Dollars on Catchings on Catchings on board Ship Geo Washington, as ordered in the margin At & from Lahaina. February 22. 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 80 p bbl
Whale Oil, 50 " "
Whale Bone, 50 " lb

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings Febmay 22d 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before August 22. 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of five per cent. if the risk ends within One year. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 18 85
Policy..... 1
$ 19.85—

August 22. 1857. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6

John C Howes Secretary. President.

No. 154

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1300

Mary W. Swift

to be insured, lost or not lost, Thirteen hundred Dollars on Bark Eben Dodge & Outfits

Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

VALUATION.

respectively as each as valued in the margin. At & from May 15th 1856

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10,000

Bark Dodge May 15th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

OUTFITS $ 11,000

May 15th 1860 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Bark Dodge or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Bark Dodge or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 117
Policy....

May 15th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Bark Dodge aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Bark Dodge whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six.

Secretary.

President.

No. 152

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

E. Arken Jr

Sum insured, $ 1000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Three hundred & Twelve Dollars on Ship Wm Rice & Six hundred & eighty eight Dollars on Catchings on board said Ship, as valued on the margin. As soon as known she was of Dartmouth 23rd 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $ 680,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Catchings January 23rd 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return~~ before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 2000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Four & one half per cent. ~~if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time~~, until

Prem.... $ 20
Policy.... 1
$ 21.

One annual at Fairhaven

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Secretary. President.

No. 183

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

George F. Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost. For Charles Tripp & Wife Martha and Capt Wm Potter each as valued in the margin At & from Fairhaven May 19th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16,000

Outfits $ 16 000

Capt Tripp May 19th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 19th 1860 at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy..... 1
$ 161

May 19th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 134

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 4000

Ridemon Bullen

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four thousand Dollars on Ship Martha & Custis

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

Fortunately on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven

May 19th 1856.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship Custis. Wing 19th 1856 as aforesaid,

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

May 19th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $ 16 00

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Ship or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 321
Policy.... 1

$ 321

May 19th 1860 at noon

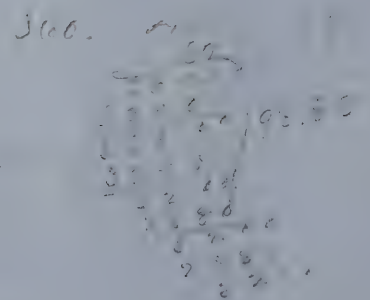
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Ship whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the (illegible) day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6

Secretary. President.

No. 155

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Simeon N. West. for account as per indorsement on the back hereof. Of Ships

Sum insured, $ 8000

Payable to Simeon N West.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight Thousand Dollars on Catchings in Ship Montezuma as insured in the Magic. At & from Lahaina.

March 10. 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil. 60. per bbl
Whale Bone, 52. 10

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings March 10 1856. at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 22. 1858. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of one per cent. if the risk ends within one year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 400
Policy.... 1
$ 401

July 22. 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the nineteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Adams Secretary. President.

The within Policy is for account as follows Viz

Capt Tinkler	3500.
Simeon H Drew	2500
John V Hart	1,000
T. V Chew	1,000
	8,000

No. 156

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1675 00

The assignees of the estate of Shattuck Cook, late of Fairhaven to E. Samuel Assignee

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six hundred & twenty five Dollars on Ship Wm Rotch and Ten hundred & ~~seventy~~ fifty Dollars on Clothes, on board said Ship on each as valued in the margin. At & from whereon she was.

Dawn 27 1856.

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil. 1,25 per

Whale Oil. 35

Whale Bone. 35 .40

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship Catharine Jan. 27. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 1000 00

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Ship &c. or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Ship &c. or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two & one Half per cent. ~~if the risk ends within longer time,~~ and ~~pro rata for a~~ until

Prem....$ 41.87

Policy..... 1

$ 42 87

Ten annum at Fairhaven.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Ship &c. aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Ship &c. whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty first day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John Abrams Secretary. President.

360. 45 128.

640 40

512 16

No. 157

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 900.

Wm F. Edwards.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Nine hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Henry Weeland as valued in the margin, At & from Mangonui January 14th 1856 at noon

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $1.70 per gal.
Whale Oil, 70 "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings, January 14th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 4th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Four per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ the return for time not used if the risk and premium note are mutually surrendered

Prem....$ 45
Policy.... 1
$ 46

~~until~~ September 4th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John C Adams Secretary. President.

Fairhaven July 25. 1837

$17.82.

Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co. Seventeen Dollars and 82/100 being the amount due me for general average loss on their Policy of Insurance No 137

Wm Edwards

No. 155

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1000

Simon Millington

to be insured, lost or not lost, one Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Erie as valued in the margin. At & from Sabanic. March 16. 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 1.70 pr gal
Whale Oil. 75 " "
Whale Bone. 37 50

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 16th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 1st 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem....$ 20
Policy..... 1

$ 21.

September 1st 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Thomas Secretary. President.

No. 159

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8000.

Swift & Allen For account of whom it may concern lay & ap. ate Co

Swift & Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Eight Thousand Dollars on Oil on board the Ship Crisis as valued in the margin. Arr from Talcahuana April 1st 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 1.70 Bbl
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Oil April 1st 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium. $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five & one half per cent. ~~if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time~~, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1 $ 201

her arrival at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the thirtieth day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Parmer Secretary.

President.

No. 110

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Swift & Allen for account of whom it may concern, loss if any payable to Swift & Allen.

Sum insured, $ 8000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight thousand Dollars on $\frac{1}{4}$ on board Ship Carolina as valued in the margin. At & from Talcahuana June 3. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, $1.05 per gal
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oct. 4 June 3d 1856 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said ~~the~~ or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, ~~their~~ factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said ~~the~~ or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, ~~their~~ executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two, per cent. if the risk ends within one months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy..... 1
$ 161

then arrival at New Bedford

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the ~~the~~ W. aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said ~~the~~ whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Second day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty ~~five~~

C. Wm Reames Secretary. President.

No. 141

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 400

Joseph Edwards

to be insured, lost or not lost, One hundred Dollars on Catchings in board Ship Henry Rheuland as valued in the margin. At & from Kenganui, January 14th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.70 p gall
Whale Oil, .75 " "
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings January 14th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before September 4th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent, if the risk ends within One Year, and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used if the risk ends within One Month, less 5 p cent

Prem....$ 1.15
Policy.... 1
$ 2.16

until September 4th 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John A Hames Secretary. President.

1

Fairhaven July 25th 1837

$17.82

Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co Seventeen dollars 82/100 being the amount due me for general average Loss on their Policy of Insurance No. 161 Joseph Edwards
by Wm E Edwards

No. 112

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1500

Ada Copeland for account of Asa E Copeland & Mary Sayabee

to

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Ada Copeland

Fifteen hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Bark Wash as valued on the margin At & from Manzanita Bay March 20. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 170
Whale Oil, 75
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings March 20. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 31st 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 75
Policy..... 1
$ 76
10.26
52.00

October 31st 1859 at noon

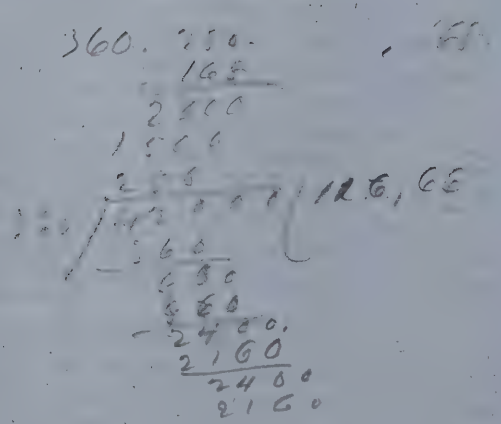
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Secretary. President.

No. 163

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

The Estate of John A Parker dec'd & any payable to William Phillips executor

Sum insured, $ 5000

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Five Thousand Dollars on Ship Barque & Outfits, for Intentionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Hong Kong. Febuary 14. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits. Febuary 14. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 20. 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 11.200

OUTFITS $ 20.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 250
Policy.... 1
$ 251.

September 20. 1857 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

John A Parker Secretary.

President.

No. 114

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

James S. Robinson

Sum insured, $ 300.

to be insured, lost or not lost. Five hundred Dollars on Catchings as Brand Ship James as valued in the margin A-1 from Date April 1st 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil, 76 Dollars
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings April 1st 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

April 19 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

April 19th 1858 at noon

Prem.... $ 25
Policy ... 1
$ 26.
2 ½

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twelfth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hames Secretary. President.

No. 1157

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause T. R. Whitwell for account of Brock Spooner, Esq. as by any payable to T. R. Whitwell,

Sum insured, $ 2500

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty five hundred Dollars on Ship Lydia & Outfits Proportionally on each as valued in the margin, At & from Guam March 1. 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Ship & Outfits March 1. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 14th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16,000

OUTFITS $ 24,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 175
Policy.....
$ 126
153.81
279.81

October 14th 1858 at noon

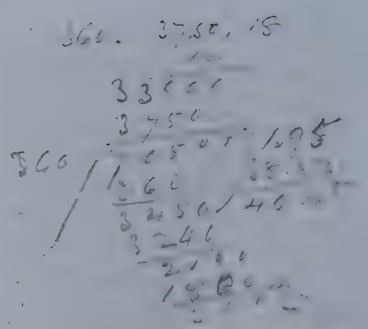
AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.



The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty fifth day of January one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Parmer Secretary. President.

No. 166

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 750.

Nathaniel Hoar.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Seven hundred & fifty Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Arab as valued in the margin. At & from Lahaina.

April 21st 1846.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 1.75
Whale Oil, 80
Whale Bone, 60.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings April 21st 1846 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 3d 1849 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (Catchings) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 37.50
Policy..... 1
$ 38.50

October 3d 1849 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (Catchings) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (Catchings) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,

$

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil.

Whale Oil.

Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem....$

Policy....

$

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the day of one thousand eight hundred and fifty

Secretary. President.

No. 147

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Matthew Howard for account of Dennis Stevens. loss if any payable to Matthew Howard

Sum insured, $ 600

to be insured, lost or not lost, Six hundred Dollars on Sperm Oil on board Ship Howard as valued in the margin. At & from Talcahuano for Newbedford March 23rd 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 16 p gal
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Oil March 23rd 1856 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, ~~if she shall so return before~~

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Oil or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Oil or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Two & one half per cent. ~~if the risk ends~~ within and ~~pro rata for a longer time~~, until her arrival at Newbedford

Prem....$ 15.
Policy.... 1
$ 16.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Oil aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Oil whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Seventh day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John A Hames Secretary. President.

1 mo. 18 dys to

No. 165

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1000

Thomas F. Lambert

to be insured, lost or not lost,

One Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Rover as valued in the margin At & from Fair Haven

Febry 24th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 175
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Feb 24th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 27 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, ~~until~~ to return for time she is out of the risk only without Pay. transacting the Co.

Prem....$ 80
Policy..... 1
$ 81

until June. 27th 1858 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the ~~Second~~ Twenty-sixth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

Memorandum—

From Mrs. A. E.

Lapsed. Clothing as insured within. $16.38
50.25
$66,08

From Mrs. Ch.

$50.25.

Fairhaven July 27 1855

Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mut Ins Co. fifty dollars and twenty five cts.
in full for loss on the within policy—

Thomas H. Lambert

No. 149

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1800

John M. Howland

to be insured, lost or not lost. Eighteen hundred Dollars on Ship Wm Rotch & Outfits Proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from New Bedford July 8th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits July 8th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 8th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 10.00

Outfits $ 18.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Five years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 144
Policy.....

July 8th 1860 at noon

$ 144
134.40
$ 279.40.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John L Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 170

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 2000

Thomas Ames,

to be insured, lost or not lost. Two Thousand Dollars on Ship Comfort and Outfits for Nantucket, on each as valued in the margin. At & from Honolulu March 16th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits March 16th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 6th 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 160
Policy.....
$ 161

October 6th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 16th day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6th.

Wm. Adams Secretary. President.

Rec'd of the Fauchaux M M Ins Co —
Fifty eight 54/100 Dollars on Policy No. 170 — as made up by Mr Taylor
Fauchaux Aug. 9/57

Ben'l B Howard for
Thomas Aires

J.91
J.91
f T58-33

No. 171

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Thomas Ames

Sum insured, $ 2375-

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty three hundred and Seventy five Dollars on Ship Pacific & Outfits proportionall. on each as valued in the Margn. At & from Payal September 13th 1815.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits. September 13th 1815 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 7. 1819 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 141.000

Outfits $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, (Their) factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, (Their) executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 190
Policy.....

$ 191

August 7. 1819 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 2nd day of Sept one thousand eight hundred and fifteen

Secretary. President.

No. 172

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,
$ 8000

Insft & Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight thousand Dollars on Bark Fanny & Outfits for particulars as stated in the margin. At & from New Bedford

July 14th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits. July 14. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ 1800

OUTFITS $ 2800

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 6[illegible]
Policy ...
$ 641

July 14th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

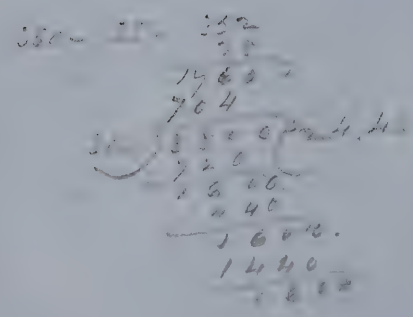
It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.



This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 14th day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty 4

John A. Ames Secretary.

President.

No. 173

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Loring Mugford for account of Ps N Jones 250- Joseph Anderson 158 Elisha Beard 158

Sum insured, $ 150

to be insured, lost or not lost. Five hundred & Fifty Dollars on Catchings on board Bark Brabasist as valued in the margin. At & from Tala Bay. January 7th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 150 for yours
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings January 7. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before April 11. 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 25
Policy.... 1
$ 26
24 461
5.44

April 11. 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of February one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

John C Adams Secretary. President.

No. 14

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 8000

Edmund Allen

to be insured, lost or not lost. Eight Thousand Dollars in Ship Arctic and Outfits Proportionally on each as mined in the margin At & from Fairhaven July 22. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship Arctic July 22. 1856 at sea

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 22. 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 24.000

Outfits $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 640
Policy.....
$ 641

July 22. 1860 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty second day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Summers Secretary. President.

No. 157

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1250

Samuel L. Braid

to be insured, lost or not lost. Twelve hundred & fifty Dollars on Ship "Sahmini" and Outfits. proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven July 30. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits July 30. 1856. at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 30. 1860. at noon.

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Saml. Braid, and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 100
Policy..... 1
$ 151.

July 30. 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty Six

John A. Howard Secretary. President.

No. 170.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 3750

H. Jenney & Charles Kipp.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Thirty seven hundred and Fifty Dollars on Ship's Tackle and Outfits, for Voluntary on each as valued in the margin

At and from Fairhaven July 30th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfit July 30. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 30. 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 300
Policy..... 1
$ 301
208.75
509.75

July 30th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Wm Gibbs Secretary. President.

No. 177

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH.

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 1280

(Livingston & Taber

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twelve hundred and fifty Dollars on Ship Sahmis and Outfits, for perpetuals, on each as valued in the margin At Sea

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

San Sam July 30th 1856

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits July 30th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 30. 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured. their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 160
Policy 1
$ 161

July 30. 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six.

John Chases Secretary. President.

No. 18

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

F. S. Pierce

Sum insured. $ 1250

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twelve hundred & Fifty Dollars on Ship Lahaina & Outfit. proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Fairhaven July 30th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Ship & Outfit July 30 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 30. 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16,000

Outfits $ 24,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel & to or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel & or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

July 30. 1860 at noon

Prem....$ 100
Policy.....

$ 151.
100.
1.50

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel & aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel & whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John C. Adams Secretary. President.

No. 179

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 625 —

Loring Foster,

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six hundred & Twenty five Dollars on Ships Fahmen

and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin

At & from Fairhaven August 6th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits August 6th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 1st 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 11.1111

OUTFITS $ 24.1111

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 50
Policy.....

August 6th 1860 at noon

$ 11.
34.72
5.28

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Tavares Secretary.

President.

No. 102

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause [illegible] David B. Kempton [illegible]

Sum insured, $ 1000

to be insured, lost or not lost, Four Thousand Dollars on Ship Christopher Mitchell, and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At and from New Bedford August 6th 1856,

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Ship & outfits August 16th 1856 at noon as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 16th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 15.000

Outfits $ 27.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

August 16th 1860 at noon

Prem....$ 320
Policy.... 1

321
21.46
301.54

340
19
321.

1856. 5. 17
6. 8. 16
1. 9. 1

1843
1593
2010 20 200.
144 92
1340
2010
3350.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Havens Secretary. President.

No. 111

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1657.50

P. E. Swinhow

to be insured, lost or not lost, Sixteen hundred & Eighty seven Dollars and fifty Cents on Ship Said Seaman & Outfits Interestmatts, on each as valued in the margin At & from Fairhaven August 20. 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits August 20. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August 20. 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 28.000

OUTFITS $ 26.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years. and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 135.
Policy.....
$ 136.
1.06
174.00

August 20th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fifteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty

John. A Hawes Secretary. President.

Fairhaven Sept 16th 1859

$1522.77 Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company fifteen hundred & twenty two 77/100 dollars in full for all demands against said Company on a/c of loss under the within Policy No. 18.

N. E. Morrison
By G. R. Whitwell
his Attorney

Memorandum.

Dr.

To loss on Ship So. Seaman & Outfits.	1687.50
1 mo 14 dys Int from July 17th (Att. May 17/59)	12.38.	1699.88.

Cr

By promote due May 16/59	174.06.
3 mos 15 dys Int.	3.05
Bal due —	1522.77	1699.88

No. 112

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1.187

Benjamin Ellis.

to be insured, lost or not lost. Eleven hundred & Eighty seven Dollars on Bark "Hope" and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from New Bedford. August 20d 1836

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark "Hope" Outfits August 20 1836 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 7.440

August. 20th 1860 at noon

Outfits $ 11.540.

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 94.96
Policy.....

$ 95.96.

August. 20d 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Stanwood Secretary.

President.

No. 113

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Smff & Allen for account of whom it may concern, top of

Sum insured, $ 2500

any payable to Smff & Allen.

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Twenty five hundred Dollars, on Bark Gratitude

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

and Outfits proportionably on each as valued in the margin

At from Pleasant Island, December 21. 1855

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits December 21. 1855 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 4th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 16.000

Outfits $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 225
Policy..... 1
$ 226

September 4th 1858 at noon.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the twenty second day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty five

Secretary. President.

No. 184

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1500

Gibbs & Tinney.

to be insured, lost or not lost. Fifty five hundred Dollars on Ship Sarah Seaman and Outfits proportionally as each as valued in the margin. At 8 from Fairhaven. August 25th 1866

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits August 25th 1866 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

August. 25th 1870 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 28,000

OUTFITS $ 24,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Six Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 520.
Policy..... 1
$ 521.

August 25 1866 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty Two

John G. Travis Secretary. President.

Taunton Aug 1. 1860

$6.905.17/ Rec'd of the Taunton Bristol Manf. Insurance Co. Six thousand nine hundred and five 17/ dollars in full for loss and interest paid on the within Policy (No 154).

No. 185.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Alfred Nye as Administrator of Estate of Charles Delano Esq of any,

Sum insured, $ 600

payable to Alfred Nye

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Six hundred Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Mary Ann as valued in the margin. At & from Paita April 25th 1856.

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil, 150 ₱ ton

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Catchings April 25th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 16th 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss: but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

September 16th 1858 at noon

Prem....$ 48

Policy..... 1

$ 49.

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

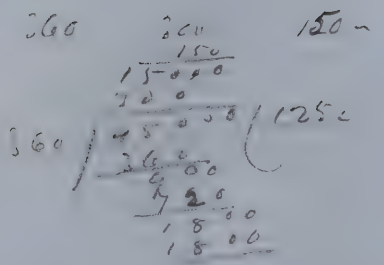
It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.



This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty eighth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John C Howes Secretary.

President.

No. 116.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 6000

Wm. P. Haviland

to be insured, lost or not lost, Six Thousand Dollars on Catchings on board Ship Jane Hecta as valued on the margin At & from whence she was (is in safety) Janry. 3rd 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil, 850 ₰ bbl
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings January 3rd 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 4th 1857 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent, if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until to return for time not used if the risk ends without loss Insurance, Five per cent. until October 4th 1857 at noon

Prem....$ 300
Policy..... 1
$ 301
125
426

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Ninth day of August one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 117

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

(P. E. Thornton

Sum insured, $ 1,750

to be insured, lost or not lost, Seventeen hundred & fifty Dollars on Bark Iowa and Outfits hypothetically or such as valued in the margin (H.T.)

from Fairhaven September 3d 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits September 3d 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3d 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12000

OUTFITS $16,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of ~~Eight~~ Five per cent. if the risk ends within One year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 157 50
Policy....
$ 1,907.50

September 3d 1860. at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six

Wm A Hawes Secretary. President.

Hartford April 8th 1858

I have received your letter of the 6th inst. and in reply to the same I have to say that the Policy of Insurance referred to

No. [illegible]
in the Hartford Steam

Office of the Hartford Steam Boiler
Insurance Co. April 5th 1858

[illegible] signature appears to be
J. M. Allen
Pres.

No. 111

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Jenney & Tripp for account of whom it may concern Ship & any,

Sum insured, $ 6,250

payable to Jenney & Tripp

to be insured, lost or not lost.

Six Thousand Six hundred & fifty Dollars on Bark Iowa and Outfit, for porportionally as each is valued in the margin At & from Fairhaven Sept 3d 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said vessel & Outfits Sept 3d 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 3d 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12000

Outfits $ 16.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel & or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel & or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Six Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 562.50
Policy.
$ 562.50

September 3d 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel & aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel & whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Third day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Secretary.

President.

No. 89

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 8000

Gibbs & Tenney

to be insured, lost or not lost, Eight Thousand Dollars on Brl or board Schoner Cornelia, as valued in the margin. At & from Newbedford to New York

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Brl Sept. 10th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, ~~until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before~~

Brl
~~Vessel~~ valued, including Premium, $ 8.000

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Brl or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Brl or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of One Quarter per cent. ~~if the risk ends within~~ and pro rata for a ~~longer time~~, until

Prem....$ 20
Policy....
$

her arrival at New York

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Brl aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Brl whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 2nd day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 140

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured. $ 14.000

Josiah Holmes Jr. & Boy.

to be insured, lost or not lost, Fourteen hundred Dollars on Bark Sunbeam & Outfits VALUATION. Sperm Oil. Whale Oil. Whale Bone, proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from New Bedford

July 21st 1856.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 22.000 Outfits $ 24.000

Bark & Outfits July. 21. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

July 21. 1860. at noon

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 112.
Policy ... 1
$ 113.

July. 21. 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of Sept. one thousand eight hundred and fifty 6.

John Adams Secretary. President.

No. 191

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Josiah Holmes 2d & Bro.

Sum insured, $ 1100

to be insured, lost or not lost. Fourteen hundred Dollars on Bark Merlin & Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin. At & from Nuvitas June 25th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said Merlin & Outfits June 25th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 25th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 22.000

OUTFITS $ 24.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 112
Policy.... 1
$ 113

June 25th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Chas A Soares Secretary. President.

No. 192

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 4500.

F. R. Whitwell

to be insured, lost or not lost, Forty five hundred Dollars on Ship Charles W. Morgan and Outfits proportionately on each as valued in the margin At & from New Bedford. September 13th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits September 13. 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 13. 1865 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 18.000

OUTFITS $ 18.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 360
Policy... 1
$ 361.

September 13th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Thirteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A. Haines Secretary. President.

Fairhaven June. 8th 1888

No 184.32

Rec'd of the Fairhaven M. M. Ins Co One hundred & eighty one dollars and fifteen cents for Partial Dfs (180.35) and interest (77) on the within Policy

H. R. Whitmell

No. 193.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1250

Benjamin Ellis

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twelve hundred and fifty dollars on Bark Marcella and Outfits proportionally on each as valued in the margin At & from New Bedford September 16th 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark & Outfits September 16th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 16th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 9,000

OUTFITS $1,000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Four years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 112,50
Policy..... 1
$ 113,50

September 16th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Sixteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John G Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 194.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured.
$ 7,000

Wm Wilcox

to be insured, lost or not lost. Seven Thousand Dollars, on Sch. Warren & Onslow

Sen particularly on such as valued in the manifest. At & from Edgartown Whence the mast of October 4th 1855 in safety 9th May 3rd 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Sch & Outfits October 4th 1855, May 3rd 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

October 4th 1859. at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium,
$ 18,000

OUTFITS $2B. 500 Ins.

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 360
Policy.....
$ 361.

October 4th 1859 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the 4th day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty 9

John A. Stowell Secretary.

President.

Fairhaven Bedford May 27 1854.

$842.99

Rec'd of the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Co the sum of Eight Hundred & forty two dollars and 99/100 — being the amt due me from said Co per order of Dep in the matter pending as made up by D Z Taylor Esq.

Wm Wilcox

No. 195

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

John M. Howland.

Sum insured, $ 2500

to be insured, lost or not lost, Twenty five hundred Dollars on Ship Mary Frazier and Outfits proportionately on each, as valued in the margin At. and from New Bedford September 18th 1860.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Ship & Outfits September 18th 1860 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 18th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 18,000

OUTFITS $ 22 000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 200
Policy..... 1
$ 201
3 05
274 05

September 18th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

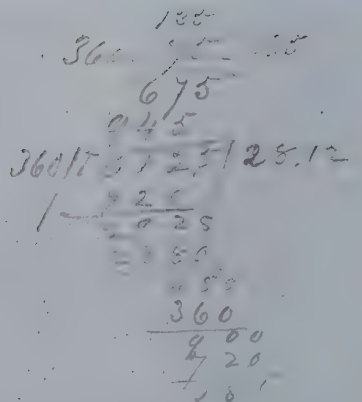
It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.



This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Eighteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty

John Adams Secretary.

President.

Barque Warren of New Bedford in a hurricane in Oct last &c lost foremast, fib and flying jib boom & main top gallant mast-head, boats stove, and bulwarks stove.

Wm H. Taylor of New Bedford made the average from which the following is a copy -

"Fairhaven Mutual Marine Ins Office

Policy No 194.

Valuation $42.1000. $7000 Insured pays. $840.99.

Wm Wilcox policy should apparently cover 7/42 of $5286 - or $881.03 - but having an interest in only one half of the vessel, and claiming 15/44 of the Com[e] office, he can only claim 7/44 of the Fairhaven Office, and the sum is so computed"

Fairhaven M. M. Ins Co in Ac with Wm Wilcox -

Dr. To loss on Policy No 194. $840.99

" 2 1/2 on " " " " 1.68 $842.67

Cr.

By his premium on Policy No 247. less 42 days disct. 54.99

$787.68

No. 196

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause Loring, Meigs. for account of as per endorsement upon the back hereof if any payable to. Loring Meigs.

Sum insured, $ 1500.

to be insured, lost or not lost,

Fifteen hundred Dollars on Schooner "Palmyra" and Outfits.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil.
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone,

for particularly as such as entered in the margin. At & from Mattapoisett

June 24th 1856

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Sch & Outfits June 24th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 24th 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 3000

Outfits $ 3000.

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Vessel &c or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Five per cent. if the risk ends within One Year and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 75.
Policy.....
$ 76
28.12
104.12

June 24th 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Vessel &c aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Vessel &c whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Fourteenth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

Wm A Fames Secretary.

President.

The within Insurance is for account of Citizens by

George Cannon.	500
C. King	400
Philip Abbott	200
Daniel Pratt.	100
	$1500

No. 147

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 9.375

(Selana Hall

to be insured, lost or not lost. Twenty three hundred & Seventy five dollars on Bark Louisa & Outfits proportionately as valued in the margin. At & from New Bedford September 22d, 1856.

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil,
Whale Oil,
Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Bark Louisa September 22 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

September 22 1860 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $ 12.000

OUTFITS $ 26.000

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said (vessel &c) or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, their factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said (vessel &c) or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, their executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Two Years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem....$ 190 --
Policy....
$ 191

September 22 1860 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the (vessel &c) aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said (vessel &c) whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty Sixth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

R. Allen Secretary. President.

No. 198

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 1959

James L. Cox.

to be insured, lost or not lost. (Nineteen hundred & eighty nine dollars on Catchings on board Bark Pamelia, as valued in the margin. At & from

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 150 per gall
Whale Oil.
Whale Bone.

Anjier July 4th 1856.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings July 4th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

June 4. 1859 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

OUTFITS $

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said vessel or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said vessel or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Nine per cent. if the risk ends within Six years and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 179.01
Policy.....
$180.11

June 4. 1859 at noon,

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the vessel aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said vessel whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Ninth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary. President.

No. 199.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured, $ 800 —

C. E. Merihew,

to be insured, lost or not lost. Eight hundred dollars on Present and future Catchings on board Bark Elizabeth Swift as valued in the margin At & from Rio Janeiro.

May 28th 1856

VALUATION.
Sperm Oil. 150 pr pipe
Whale Oil. 80 " "
Whale Bone. 60 " lb.

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

Catchings. May 28th 1856 at noon

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

November 1858 at noon

Vessel valued, including Premium, $

OUTFITS $

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said Catchings or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, his factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said Catchings or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of Eight per cent. if the risk ends within Six months and pro rata for a longer time, until

Prem.... $ 64.
Policy.....
$ 65.

November 1858 at noon

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the Catchings aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said Catchings whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

It is also agreed, that the insurers shall not be answerable for any charge, damage, or loss, which may arise in consequence of seizure, or detention, for or on account of illicit or prohibited trade, or trade in articles contraband of war; but the judgment of a foreign consular, or colonial court, shall not be conclusive upon the parties, as to the fact of there having been articles contraband of war on board, or as to the fact of an attempt to trade in violation of the laws of nations. It is also agreed, that this Policy shall be void in case of its being assigned, transferred, or pledged, without the previous consent in writing of the insurers. It is also agreed, that the insured shall not have the right to abandon the vessel, for the amount of damage merely, unless the amount which the insurers would be liable to pay under an adjustment, as of a partial loss, shall exceed half the amount insured; and in case of the total loss of the vessel with salvage, the amount allowed out of the salvage to the officers and crew, for wages earned, or services rendered previously to the loss, shall be considered as so much of the salvage applied to the use of the ship-owners, even although the same shall be allowed or paid under the name of salvage, and not as wages, and shall accordingly be deducted in adjusting the loss. It is further agreed, that if any dispute shall arise, relating to a loss on this Policy, it shall be submitted to the judgment and determination of arbitrators mutually chosen, whose award in writing shall be conclusive and binding on all parties.

It is understood and agreed, that catchings shipped home during the voyage, shall be at the risk of the insured without diminution of the value of outfits at the time, and that one fourth of all other catchings shall replace the outfits consumed.

It is also agreed, that this Policy shall not attach on Oil Catchings until the Blubber is boiled, and the Oil put in casks—nor on other articles of catchings, until stowed below deck—nor upon Oil while continued on deck longer than is necessary to prepare it for stowing below. Catchings lost or jettisoned previous to being so secured, in whatever state they may be, shall not be contributed for in General Average. It is agreed, that taking Elephants or Seals is a deviation from the conditions of this Policy.

The assured has liberty to terminate the risk at any time after three years from the date of the vessel's sailing from her home port, provided no loss is claimed; and the risk shall at the expiration of four years from the date of such sailing absolutely cease and determine.

This Company is not liable for leakage of Oil or other liquids, either in general average or partial loss. Premium notes shall be paid in sixty days after the termination of the risk.

Warranted by the assured free from loss or expense arising from capture, seizure, detention, or the consequences of any attempt thereat, any stipulations in the Policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the President of said Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company hath signed, and the Secretary thereof hath countersigned this Policy, at their Office in Fairhaven, the Twenty fifth day of September one thousand eight hundred and fifty six

John A Hawes Secretary.

President.

No.

By the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Fairhaven.

THIS POLICY OF INSURANCE WITNESSETH,

THAT the Fairhaven Mutual Marine Insurance Company, do by these PRESENTS, and in pursuance of their ACT OF INCORPORATION and the BY-LAWS of said Company, cause

Sum insured,

$

to be insured, lost or not lost,

VALUATION.

Sperm Oil,

Whale Oil,

Whale Bone,

wherever she may go on a whaling voyage, with liberty to touch at all ports or places for refreshments, and to sell her Catchings, or ship them home at the risk of the assured, or to take freight when homeward bound, whereof is Master for this present voyage, or whoever else shall be Master in the said vessel, or by whatsoever other name or names the said vessel, or Master thereof, is or shall be named or called: Beginning the Adventure upon the said

as aforesaid, and to continue during the voyage aforesaid, until she shall return and anchor North of an East and West line drawn through Palmer's Island Light House, if she shall so return before

Vessel valued, including Premium,

$

And it shall be lawful for the said vessel, in her voyage, to proceed and sail to, touch and stay at, any ports or places, if thereunto obliged by stress of weather, or other unavoidable accidents, without prejudice to this Insurance.

Touching the adventures and perils which the said Insurance Company are contented to bear, and take upon them in this voyage, they are of the Seas, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, assailing Thieves, Restraints and Detainments of all Kings, Princes or People, of what nation or quality soever, Barratry of the Master, (unless the insured be owner of the vessel,) and of Mariners, and all other losses and misfortunes, which have or shall come to the damage of the said or any part thereof, to which Insurers are liable by the rules and customs of Insurers in Boston; provided, that the Insurers shall not be liable for any partial loss for Chains and Anchors, nor on the said Vessel, unless it amount to five per cent. on forty dollars per ton of the vessel's measurement, exclusive, in each case, of all charges and expenses incurred, for the purpose of ascertaining and proving the loss; but the owners of such goods shall recover on a general average. And in case of any loss or misfortune, it shall be lawful for the insured, factors, servants, and assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in and about the defence, safeguard, and recovery of the said or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the charges whereof the said Insurance Company will contribute, in proportion as the sum insured is to the whole sum at risk. And so the President and Directors aforesaid, are contented, and do hereby bind the capital stock and other common property of the said Insurance Company, to the insured, executors, administrators, and assigns, for the true performance of the premises, confessing themselves paid the consideration due unto them for this insurance, by the insured, at and after the rate of per cent. if the risk ends within and pro rata for a longer time, until

OUTFITS $

Prem....$

Policy....

$

AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED, that if the insured shall have made any other insurance upon the aforesaid, prior in date to this Policy, then the said Insurance Company shall be answerable only for so much as the amount of such prior insurance may be deficient towards fully covering the property at risk, whether for the whole voyage, or from one port of lading or discharge to another; and the said Insurance Company shall return the premium, or a ratable part thereof, upon so much of the sum by them insured, or for such part of the voyage as they shall be exonerated from by such prior insurance; provided, that no return premium shall be made for any passage, whereon the risk has once commenced. And in case of any insurance upon the said whether it be for the whole or part of the voyage, subsequent in date to this Policy, the said Insurance Company shall nevertheless be answerable to the full extent of the sum by them herein insured, without right to claim contribution from such subsequent Insurers; and shall accordingly be entitled to retain the premium by them received, in the same manner as if no such subsequent insurance had been made. And in case of loss, such loss shall be paid in sixty days after proof and adjustment thereof, the amount of the premium note, if unpaid, and all sums due to the Company, from the insured, when such loss becomes due, being first deducted, and all sums coming due being first paid or secured to the satisfaction of the said President and Directors, they discounting interest for anticipating payment. It is also agreed, that in case of capture or detention, the insured shall not have the right to abandon therefor, until proof is exhibited of condemnation, or of the continuance of the detention, (by capture or other arrest,) for at least ninety days; and that the insured shall not abandon in consequence of the port of destination being blockaded, but the vessel shall, in such case, have liberty to proceed to another port not blockaded, and there end the voyage, or wait a reasonable time for the blockade of the original port of destination to be raised; and that the acts of the insured or insurers in recovering, saving, and preserving the property insured, in case of disaster, shall not be considered a waiver or acceptance of an abandonment.

It is also agreed, that in the settlement of any loss under this Policy, instead of the customary deduction of one third for new, on the article of metallic sheathing, the following rule shall be observed, and the same shall apply to all cases, whether of partial loss or average, or in determining the question of constructive total loss—viz: From the net cost of metaling or repairing the metal sheathing, after deducting the value of the old metal and nails, there shall be deducted two and a half per cent. for each and every month the metal had been on the vessel when the peril was encountered, upon which the claim is founded; and if the metal had been on the vessel forty months, the loss thereon shall be wholly borne by the assured.

